Words and Music by

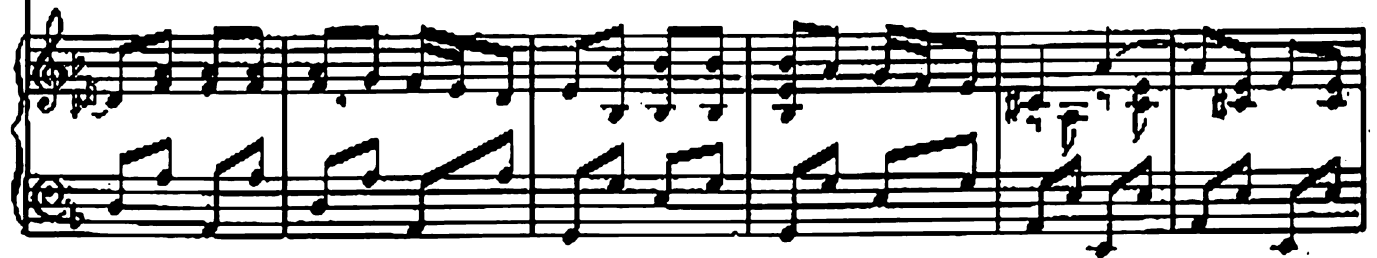

ELLA AIRLIE.

Till ready.

Far away, where icy winds blow, lives a little maid that I know She whom I do, Little mountain maid I'm lonely, for I love and want you only. My bride you soon will

I'll be and ev'ry evening when the shades are falling I can hear her sweet voice calling Be side the mountain we will dwell for ever And I'll never leave you, never come back : : my love to me : : : Little did I dream that when we in oth : : er land to room : : : Little sweetheart, how I long to parted nigh broken hearted : : we both should be. And so my wand'ring hold you in fond arms fold you : : close to my heart So speed the moments footsteps I am turn - ing : : for I am yearn - ing : : my love to see. Oh! I quickly till I meet you : : with kisses greet you : : no more to part.

must go . . . to Kos - ci - us . . . ko. Back . . . to . . . the land of snow . . . for my love's . . . in Kos - ci - us . . . ko wait - ing me | know . . . and her brown eyes, with lovellight beam - . . ing.

will soon . . with rapture glow Then wedding bells will start a . ringing.

Telling of the joy they're bringing, when I'm . . in Kos - ci - us . . . ko,
