ARGUMENT.

Dick Fitzgerald, an Irish soldier of fortune, ruined by a gambler, John Hawkhurst, becomes a highwayman, and wins notoriety as "Captain Scarlet." Lady Constance Sinclair, who loves Dick, disguises as Scarlet and "holds up" a stage coach in order to obtain Dick's pardon which has fallen into the hands of Hawkhurst. Lieut. Rodney, one of Nelson's officers, also disguises as Scarlet in order to carry off Pamela, his sweetheart, who is travelling in the same coach. A third masquerader as Scarlet is Toby, 'ostler of the Cat-and-Fiddle, who is told by the bar-maid, Dolly, that she will not marry him unless he proves himself a hero. The three alleged Scarlets are all arrested by different officials, who are after the thousand pounds reward offered for the highwayman. Conspicuous among these minions of the law are Constable Quiller, of Bow Street, and Lieut. Lovelace of the militia. The real Captain Scarlet (Dick Fitzgerald) meanwhile, as a lame peddler, makes game of his pursuers, and represents himself as Lord Kilkenny, an Irish nobleman, from whom he has taken proofs of identity. Dick devotes his efforts to freeing those who have pretended to be Captain Scarlet, but is finally brought to bay by the appearance of the real Lord Kilkenny. Constance produces his pardon, however, and the customary happy matrimonial denouement ensues.

This musical score is for a piece titled "Hooray!". It consists of ten vocal staves and piano accompaniment. The vocal parts are arranged in two groups of five. Each vocal line begins with the word "Hooray!" and features a melodic line with a dynamic accent (>) and a fermata. The piano accompaniment is written in a grand staff (treble and bass clefs) and provides harmonic support for the vocal lines. The score includes lyrics for the final section: "-ray! With fif - ing and with drumming Marching a - way! In". The piano part includes dynamic markings such as cresc. (crescendo) and dim. (diminuendo).

Act II.

Entr' Acté.

Allegro Moderato.

The first system of the musical score is in 6/8 time and B-flat major. It begins with a piano (p) dynamic. The right hand features a melodic line with accents and slurs, while the left hand provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and single notes.

The second system continues the piece, featuring a piano (pp) dynamic followed by a crescendo (cresc.). The right hand has a more active melodic line with slurs and accents, and the left hand has a steady accompaniment.

The third system shows a mezzo-forte (mf) dynamic. The right hand continues with a melodic line, and the left hand has a consistent accompaniment.

The fourth system features a decrescendo (dim.) dynamic. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs and accents, and the left hand has a steady accompaniment.

The fifth system concludes the piece with a piano (pp) dynamic. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs and accents, and the left hand has a steady accompaniment. The lyrics "u - en - do." are written under the right hand's notes.

Allegro marcato.

a poco crescendo. R.H. Ped. *

The first system of music features a treble clef with a whole rest in the first measure, followed by a melodic line. The bass clef provides a steady accompaniment. The right hand is marked 'R.H.' and includes a 'Ped.' (pedal) marking and an asterisk. The tempo is 'Allegro marcato' and the dynamics are 'a poco crescendo'.

R.H. Ped. *

The second system continues the piece with more complex melodic and harmonic textures. The right hand is again marked 'R.H.' and includes 'Ped.' and asterisk markings. The dynamics remain 'a poco crescendo'.

Con Spirito.

The third system begins the 'Con Spirito' section. The tempo is 'Allegro marcato' and the dynamics are 'Con Spirito'. The music is characterized by a strong, driving accompaniment in the bass clef and a more active melodic line in the treble clef.

The fourth system continues the 'Con Spirito' section with similar rhythmic intensity and dynamic energy.

The fifth system continues the 'Con Spirito' section, maintaining the driving accompaniment and active melody.

ff accel. sfz sfz

The sixth system concludes the 'Con Spirito' section. It features a fortissimo (ff) dynamic, an acceleration (accel.), and sforzando (sfz) accents. The piece ends with a final chord and a fermata.

The first system of the musical score consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. The time signature is 2/4. The music begins with a forte (f) dynamic. The melody in the treble clef features eighth-note patterns with accents, while the bass clef provides a steady accompaniment of chords and eighth notes.

The second system continues the piece. The treble clef melody has a repeat sign at the end of the first measure. The bass clef accompaniment remains consistent with the first system.

The third system features a cresc. (crescendo) marking. The treble clef melody becomes more active with sixteenth-note runs. The bass clef accompaniment continues with chords and eighth notes.

The fourth system begins with a fortissimo (ff) dynamic. The treble clef melody continues with eighth-note patterns. The bass clef accompaniment features a change in chord structure.

The fifth system includes a first ending (marked '1') and a second ending (marked '2') with a pressando. (pressing) instruction. The treble clef melody has a repeat sign before the first ending. The bass clef accompaniment is consistent.

The sixth system concludes the piece. The treble clef melody features a final flourish with a forte (f) dynamic. The bass clef accompaniment ends with a final chord. The piece concludes with a double bar line.
