

VIOLIN

ARTHUR

HARTMANN

COMPOSITIONS FOR VIOLIN AND PIANO

PRAYER
A NEGRO CROOD

NET $ - 75

NET $ - 50

ARTHUR

HARTMANN

TRANSCRIPTIONS FOR VIOLIN AND PIANO

ALPHERAKY
BALANREW
GLIERE

CLINKA
KRECHAMINOFF
KARAGITSCHOFF
KARGANOFF

NEMEROWSKY
TSCHAIKOWSKY

F.W. BACH
ERKEL POLDINI

"SERENADE DE KAMAYE"
"SONNET DU SEULEUR"
"ROMANSE"
"MELODIE"
"MAELURKA"
"BACH'S DUTCHMAN"
"STATION"
"MAELURKA"
"IN THE GARDEN"
"ALLA MAELURKA"
"SERENADE"
"KORNETT"
"LARGO"
"HUNGARIAN RHYTHM"
"POUR LE TRAPPE"

EACH $ - 50 net

Breitkopf & Hartel

NEW YORK 22-24 W. 38th STREET.

Breitkopf & Hartel
IN MIND STANDS FOR ART

La Capricieuse.

Morceau de Genre.

Violon.

Edward Elgar, Op. 17.

Molto moderato.

ten. volant. 1 2 3 4 1 3 p espress. talon 4

ten. 2 3 ten. 2 3

cresc. 3 3 3 3 sf p de la pointe ten. rit. 3

a tempo ten. 2 restez ten. 3 2 1 2 1 3 2 4 cresc.

pp ten. 4 0 1 0 1 pp pp pp

cresc. molto mf f ff

dim. e rit. 4 3 2 4 ten. rf

a tempo ten. pp espress. schertz. ten. cresc. 2

f ten. p pp

IV^a - rit. - a tempo

sf dim. pp

cresc. dim. cresc. legato

espress. f dim. p

poco più mosso. mf pp

cresc. cresc. molto mf II^a

III^a molto rit. ad lib. Tempo primo. 1 ten. espress. senza ripetizione

dim. poco a poco tranquillo dim.

IV^a - rit. - V rall.

a tempo pp pizz. molto cresc.

sf p III II 0 4 pp

Arrangements by

Maud Powell

Price $1.00 Each

Published by BREITKOPF & HARTEL Inc.

22 W. 38th Street, New York

LOVE'S DELIGHT (Martini)

One wonders why this old Song was not played on the violin long ago, so naturally does the instrument sing its pensive beauties. (The key is F major, the key that Träumerei made famous.) Although the burden of the song: "The joys of love last but a day, the sorrows of love last alway" is sad enough, the character of the music suggests but melancholy in retrospect, a melancholy tinged with sweet recollection.

SONGS MY MOTHER SANG (Dvořák)

Madam Powell uses the following note on her programs when playing this beautiful song:

The melody of "Songs My Mother Sang" is one of haunting beauty, and to the musician quite one of the loveliest in all song literature. Truth to tell, it tugs at his heart strings as presumably, the old melody of "Silver Threads Among the Gold," stirs the emotions of the layman. The words of the song speak the thoughts of an old man who sits before the fire dreaming of his youth. He recalls, one by one the little songs which his mother, long since dead, used to sing to him in her low, sweet voice. As the songs fit ghost-like through his memory, he loses all sense of the present and lives for the moment completely in the past. The gentle presence of his mother, the sound of her voice, pervade the room and become once more a living reality. Tears of sad-sweet recollection trickle down the withered cheek and through the grizzled beard, silent, unnoticed.

Madam Powell has fingered and phrased the violin version carefully, so that the full vocal effect is achieved. The double stopping at the close of the second verse is particularly satisfying.

MUSETTE (Sibelius)

Madam Powell heard Jean Sibelius conduct the Musette at the Norfolk, Conn., Festival three years ago. So charmed was she with the dainty trifle that she straightway bought the orchestral score and set about reducing it to a violin and piano version. The piece lends itself gracefully to violin treatment, though the melody runs at a quicker tempo under the bow than when played by the woodwind instruments as in the original setting. The humorous and unexpected pauses, while the piece is at full tilt, are characteristic of the Finnish composer. (Note his long impressive pauses, so fraught with eloquence, in Valse Triste.) The Musette has been a successful number in Madam Powell's repertoire. The melody is sufficiently obvious to make a direct appeal, yet so delicately handled that it cannot fall into banality.