The image shows a page of handwritten musical notation on aged, slightly torn paper. The notation is written in dark ink. The first system consists of five staves. The first staff begins with the word "Dolce." and the instrument name "Cembalo." in a cursive hand. The notation includes various note values (quarter, eighth, and sixteenth notes), rests, and accidentals (sharps and naturals). There are also some numerical figures (2, 4, 5, 8) written above the notes in the first staff. The second system consists of ten staves, with the word "Dolce." written at the beginning of the first staff. This system features more complex rhythmic patterns, including many sixteenth and thirty-second notes, and some larger rests. The paper shows signs of age, including foxing and some staining.

A handwritten musical score for Viola di Gamba, consisting of 15 staves. The notation is in a historical style, featuring a treble clef, a key signature of one sharp (F#), and a common time signature (C). The music is written in a fluid, cursive hand. The first staff begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one sharp. The notation includes various note values, rests, and bar lines. The paper is aged and shows signs of wear, including foxing and staining. The score is written in black ink on a light-colored, textured paper.
