PREFACE.

JOHANN SEBASTIAN BACH, one of the greatest German musicians, was born in 1685, and died in 1750. His works are monuments of his art, unsurpassed masterworks in Counterpoint, Polyphony and Harmony, which not only merit general admiration, but also urge to ardent study; for it may well be said that Bach's compositions mark an era in the development of modern music.

Among them, the six Sonatas for Violin alone (or, to be more accurate, 3 Partitas and 3 Sonatas), take a prominent place, for in the whole literature of the violin we do not find anything resembling them. It has often been wondered at, how an artist, whose principal instrument was the organ, could have written compositions for the violin which are so extremely difficult, and, at the same time, highly adapted to that instrument. But Bach was an excellent violinist himself. In 1703 he held a position as such in the orchestra of Prince Johann Ernst of Saxe-Weimar, and the six Sonatas were probably written during that time.

In publishing this new edition, it was my endeavor to keep strictly in accord with the original; not to modernize the expression, not to change the underlying harmony, and as little as possible the bowings and signs, for only in this way can we get a true picture of Bach's intellectual greatness. In the celebrated Ciaccona, for instance, trills had to be omitted, chords completed, runs harmonically changed, the duration of notes prolonged, etc. All this may sound strange to those who do not know the original, but it is in exact correspondence with the manuscript on which the edition of the "Bach-Gesellschaft" is based.

With regard to the signs, a few explanations are necessary. The metronome ought not to be used for more than a few measures; the spiccato bowing is indicated by dots (.....), the legato by lines (— — — —) or not at all. The ritardandos at the close of a part are not to be observed when that part is repeated.

In conclusion, I dedicate this new edition to my friend, Mr. Maurice Sternberger, and to all sincere students who find an inexhaustible source of inspiration and enjoyment in the works of our great master, J. S. Bach.

Andante. (♩ = 88)

The musical score is written for a single melodic line in 12/8 time. It begins with a mezzo-forte (mf) dynamic. The tempo is marked Andante, with a quarter note equal to 88 beats per minute. The key signature has one flat (B-flat). The score includes various musical ornaments and techniques:

- Triplets: Indicated by a '3' over a group of notes.
- Slurs: Used to group notes that are played smoothly together.
- Dynamic Markings: cresc. (crescendo), dim. (diminuendo), f (forte), and p (piano).
- Accents: Small 'v' marks above notes to indicate emphasis.
- Ornamentation: Some notes have small circles or dots above them, possibly indicating grace notes or specific articulation.
- Rehearsal Marks: Numbers 1 through 4 are placed above certain measures, likely indicating first, second, third, and fourth endings or specific points of interest.

The piece concludes with a rit. (ritardando) marking, slowing down the tempo towards the final notes.

Compositions by the Old Masters

Arranged and Edited for Violin and Piano by Famous Artists

Pieces by Old Masters

Arr. by WILLY BURMESTER

The works of the old French, German and Italian masters are in many cases inaccessible, because written in the old clefs and provided with figured bass accompaniments. In these arrangements Mr. Burmester has put within the reach of violinists beautiful music, new because unknown; and he has transcribed his selections with a true appreciation of the originals, written for clavecin, viola d'amour or hammer clavier.

The Classic Masters

Arr. by SAM FRANKO

These arrangements of music of 150 years ago add to the repertory of the violin pieces delightfully piquant and playable. They consist of dainty dances, airs and ballet-numbers written by the greatest masters of a former generation and are every bit as fascinating in this twentieth century as they were in the seventeenth.

Old English Composers

Arr. by ALFRED MOFFAT

This group of ten arrangements from the figured basses of olden manuscripts covers a period extending from 1670 to 1786, and comprises some of the most characteristic pieces written by the 17th and 18th century English composers of fiddle music. The numbers selected show much variety of form, style, and interest in the handling of their pleasing themes.

Old Masters of the Violin

Arr. by ALFRED MOFFAT

The arranger of these pieces, Alfred Moffat, has here collected music that illustrates well the clarity of melodic outline and fine sonority which characterize the music of the period in which they were composed. Old in point of time they are ever fresh and inspiring.
