Critical notes

This score is the first modern edition of the scena<sup>1</sup> “Duetto della Cantata Diana è Endimione composta per il Sign<sup>r</sup> Piantanida”, G.80, for soprano and tenor and small orchestra by the Danish composer Georg Gerson (1790–1825). The composition is dated November 3, 1813.

The source is

MS           “Partiturer No. 4”, “George Gersons samling: mu 7105.0963 C II, 6b” (1823), a collection of manuscript scores by Gerson preserved at the Royal Library of Copenhagen, Denmark. The score is found on pp. 1–23,

The text is by the librettist Stefano Vestris (1762–1835) from a cantata, “Diana è Endimione” by Ferdinando Paer (1771–1839). Vestris’s text was based on another libretto by Antonio Simone Sografi (1759–1818) in its turn based on Jean-Jacques Rousseau’s “Pygmalion”. At the end of the manuscript score Gerson writes this explanation:

NB Vorstehendes Duetto wurde für den Tenorsänger Piantanida componiert und war bestimmt in einer Cantate von Paer "Diana & Endimione" eingelegt zu werden. Voran ging eine Arie von Simone Mayer aus dem C moll "Sento mancarmi l'anima", welches Thema in dem einleitenden Recitativo des Endimion beybehalten wurde. Auf das Duetto sollte ein Jagd-Chor von Diana's Nymphen folgen; darum am Ende die Zwischenspiele und das Refrein vom Horn-fanfare, welche hinter der Scene gehört werden. Da aus der ganzen Vorstellung nichts wurde, so unterblieb auch die Composition des Chors. Wenn das Duett nun für sich allein bestehen soll, so geht man am pag: 20 (ohne von pag. 21 und 22 irgend etwas beyzubehalten) zu nachstehendem, 1819 zucomponierterem Schluß-Satze:

The duetto was written for the tenor singer Piantanida (Gaetano Piantanida 1768–1836) for inclusion into a cantata by Paer (Ferdinando Paér 1771–1839), "Diana & Endimione". It was to be preceded by an aria in c minor by Simone Mayer (Simone Mayr 1763–1845), "Sento mancarmi l'anima", the subject of which was continued in Endimione's opening recitative. A hunting chorus of Diana's nymphs should follow concluded by an interlude and horn fanfares heard behind the stage. The chorus was not composed since the concert was not carried out. If the duetto is to be performed alone then all the music on page 21 and 22 should be replaced by the below finale, composed 1819.

According to several RISM entries (for example ID 402006570) Mayr’s authorship of “Sento mancarmi l’anima” is doubtful. Most likely the aria was written by Girolamo Crescentini (1762–1846) as an addition to Mayr’s opera “Alonso e Cora” from 1803. The melodic incipit as given in RISM fits with the motive played from bar 4 and onwards in the orchestral accompaniment of Gerson’s recitative.

In the first half of the 19th century “Sento mancarmi l’anima” was now and then used as an additional aria for the countess in performances of Mozart’s “Le nozze di Figaro”.<sup>2</sup>

After the explanation text in Gerson’s score follows the mentioned finale sketched as a piano score. The editor has prepared an orchestration of the finale in analogy with Gerson’s instrumentation in the remaining score.

Gerson’s finale from the 1813 version is part of this edition as a separate score.

In his manuscripts Gerson made use of various shorthand notations like slashed notes representing repeated notes. Such notation types are also found in music prints from that period like Gerson’s string quartet no. 5 (G.63) published as part books 1826. The full score of this modern edition comes in two versions: a score keeping as close as possible to the original notation and an alternative, ’contemporized’ score expanding the shorthand notations. In the contemporized scores the beaming of vocal staves has been adapted to modern practices. Separate parts are contemporized as well.

When a slurred phrase obviously starts with tied notes the tie is often omitted: A musical score showing a slurred eighth-note pattern. The first note is tied to the second, and the second is tied to the third, and so on. The tie is omitted at the start of the slur.

In the modern edition the tie has been added: A musical score showing a slurred eighth-note pattern. The first note is tied to the second, and the second is tied to the third, and so on. The ties are explicitly added at the start of each slur.

Performance indications within brackets and dashed ties and slurs have been added by the editor.
