SONATA

Allegro.

I.

The musical score is written for a single instrument, likely piano, in 3/8 time. It begins with a treble staff containing a melodic line with several trills marked with 't.' and a bass staff providing a harmonic foundation. The first system is followed by six more systems, each consisting of two staves. The notation includes a variety of note values, including sixteenth and thirty-second notes, as well as rests and accidentals. The piece ends with a double bar line and repeat signs.

The musical score consists of seven systems, each with a treble and bass staff. The first system begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one flat (B-flat), and a 4/4 time signature. The tempo is marked 'Allegro.' in the first system. The notation is dense, featuring many sixteenth and thirty-second notes, often beamed together. There are several trills marked with 't.' and accents marked with 'f.'. Fingering numbers (1-5) are visible above many notes. The second system continues the piece. The third system includes a performance instruction 'a suo comodo.' written above the treble staff. The fourth system shows a change in the bass line with more sustained notes. The fifth system continues the rapid sixteenth-note passages. The sixth system features more complex rhythmic patterns with some triplets.
