First system of musical notation. The key signature is three sharps (F#, C#, G#). The system consists of three staves. The top staff has a treble clef and a 2-measure rest at the beginning, followed by a melodic line starting on G#4. The middle staff has a grand staff (treble and bass clefs) and contains a piano (p) dynamic marking and a poco cresc. (poco crescendo) instruction. The bottom staff has a bass clef and contains a melodic line starting on G#2. The system concludes with a double bar line.

Second system of musical notation. The key signature remains three sharps. The system consists of three staves. The top staff continues the melodic line from the first system. The middle staff has a piano (p) dynamic marking and continues the melodic line. The bottom staff continues the melodic line. The system concludes with a double bar line.

Third system of musical notation. The key signature remains three sharps. The system consists of three staves. The top staff continues the melodic line. The middle staff continues the melodic line. The bottom staff continues the melodic line. The system concludes with a double bar line.

Fourth system of musical notation. The key signature changes to three flats (Bb, Eb, Ab). The system consists of three staves. The top staff has a poco rit. (poco ritardando) instruction. The middle staff has a dim. (diminuendo) instruction. The bottom staff continues the melodic line. The system concludes with a double bar line.

GUILMANT

ORGAN ALBUM

3 VOLUMES

15 Compositions in Each Volume

EDITED BY

DR. WILLIAM C. CARL

Each Vol. n. 1.50

For years the late Alexandre Guilmant, most eminent of French organists, had associated with him his American pupil, William C. Carl, director of the Guilmant Organ School in New York City, of which Mr. Guilmant was the Honorary President. Dr. Carl spent some time each year with the Master, and became fully imbued with the spirit and ideas for which he is so well known and admired. It is therefore most fitting that he should have been chosen to edit and adapt for modern organs these selections from Guilmant's works.

Three volumes, each to contain fifteen pieces, the most characteristic and best liked, have been edited by Dr. Carl. The edition has been carefully prepared, with the registration and pedal markings clearly indicated, besides containing an excellent portrait of Guilmant. A large number of the pieces are not known in this country and will therefore readily serve as novelties.

Each number is suitable for the Church Service, as Prelude, Offertory, or Postlude. The first volume has been adapted primarily for those requiring Voluntaries of moderate difficulty, or demanding but little preparation, a most important item for the busy organist.

The other volumes have been arranged on the same lines, including several of the compositions that have made the name of Guilmant famous, in Europe as well as in America.

THE ORGAN WORKS OF OTTO MALLING

Malling is known to organists in this country by a few of his writings, for example, his "Shepherds in the field" and his "Easter Morning" but his monumental series of organ compositions illustrating other Scriptural subjects is not so familiar, because of their comparatively inaccessibility heretofore—a condition now removed by THE BOSTON MUSIC CO.'s acquisition of the Sole Agency for America.

To all organists, in Protestant or Catholic churches, who take care to adapt their solo numbers to the church season, Malling's musicianly works throw open a treasury of finely imaginative and original expressions of devotional thought and revered event. For recitals too, with the added opportunity for program annotation, these works have direct application. We would call attention to the variety of other numbers suited to performance in the Passion-tide and Easter season.
