

26

Cora Fabbric.

Mildred J. Hill

Allegretto.

1. If I were a bird, I would sing all
 2. If I were a flower - day a daisy
 4. And if I were you I would eat the day;

 small - same;

I would sing, would sing of you, To the dropping dew,
 I would kiss, would kiss your feet, When I saw you fleet -
 Only, only did I see Some one loving me

To the hero's own blue,
 Pass me by, O sweet!
 Standing near I'd be

All the praise I knew
 I would murmur "Dear,
 Just a trifle kind;

Till the world, the
 All the summer
 I would give, would whole world heard - If I were a bird.

 summer hour If I were a flower.
 give a few, Smiles, if I were you.

(3) If I were the wind - Say a summer breeze - I'd be bolder bolder, dear; I would kiss your ear, I would touch your hair, Love,

Catch each flying lock, All its shining bands unbind - If I were the wind. All at fine.