OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

FIRST GROUP.

"The Battle Hymn is a vigorous piece of work in which the use of quasi-Oriental colouring is sufficiently consistent to give thoroughly sincere expression to the words. There is original beauty in the 'Hymn to the Unknown God,' especially in the Refrain, 'Who is He? How shall we name Him when we offer sacrifice?' The Funeral Hymn is more massive in style."—Times.

"Of his uncommon ability he has given us proof before now, and there can be no questioning the cleverness, power, and imagination revealed in the work."—Daily Telegraph.

"By far the best of the new works was Mr. Gustav von Holst's group of Rig-Veda Hymns, especially the 'Hymn to the Unknown God.' The design of the piece was simple, from a pianissimo to a very striking climax, and down again; while at intervals a quaint effect of little bell-like sounds was heard.

"No one has done Oriental music better than Mr. von Holst—that is to say, he has freed himself from the customary devices, and seems to have been able to express himself quite naturally in a musical phraseology eminently suitable to the fine texts."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"The Funeral Hymn especially is beautiful, and rises to very impressive climaxes. In this and in the 'Hymn to the Unknown God' the orchestration is very imaginative. The effect of little bells and flowing phrases in the bass in the latter is weird, and suggests a superstitious mystery."—Star.

"Reveals a very vivid sense of colour and a command of convincing atmosphere."

Morning Post.

"The Funeral Hymn is a really noble piece of massive choral writing, far removed from hackneyed conventionality."—Birmingham Post.

"The music is warm with feeling, strong in character, and most effective in structure."

Manchester Guardian.

SECOND GROUP.

"Mr. von Holst's second group of choral hymns from the Rig-Veda, for female voices and orchestra, were among the most interesting things in the programme. All three are delicate and thoughtful pieces of work, and each has distinct characteristics of its own."—Times.

"Of the novelties, Mr. Gustav von Holst's choral hymns proved by far the freshest and most spontaneous in thought and treatment."—Standard.

"Effective, restrained, and original; and although modern, the restrained simplicity of the choral treatment allowed the choir to get the maximum of effect with the minimum of means."

Observer.

"All three are very freshly felt and thoughtful, picturesque in their colour, and bold but effective in their vocal writing; but the deepest impression was made by the second 'To Agni,' a vigorous and vivid piece of impressionism."—Sunday Times.

"Their originality is, as usual with Mr. von Holst's work, controlled by refinement and musicianship."—Musical Times.
