This page of a violin score contains ten staves of music, numbered 43 through 92. The music is written in a single system with a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a common time signature. The notation includes various rhythmic values, slurs, and dynamic markings. A trill (tr) is indicated above a note in measure 54, and a forte (f) dynamic marking is present in measure 67. The score concludes with a double bar line at the end of measure 92.
