tones, and be represented by three notes. Such divisions are called TRIPLETS, and are usually indicated by the figure 3. over or under the notes.

NOTE—Rhythmic exercises, designed to illustrate the subject of this chapter, should be introduced as they are needed. The following may be regarded as examples.

NOTE.—A most valuable classification of measure into primitive and derived forms, in the use of which the pupil may be made practically acquainted with all the relations of the length of tones, may be found in various elementary treatises by the author of this work, and especially in his last book, the HALLE-LUJAH. It is omitted here, but it is recommended to teachers to make themselves familiar with it. It was originally published by Kübler of Stuttgart, Wurtemberg.

CHAPTER IV.

VARIETIES OF MEASURE.

§ 16. Different notes may be used to represent the parts of measures in each kind of measure; and these different usages of notes are called VARIETIES OF MEASURE.

§ 17. As figures are used to designate the kinds of measure, so also figures are used to designate varieties of measure. The figures being written as in the representation of fractions, the kind of measure is designated by the numerator, and the variety of measure is designated by the denominator.

NOTE.—Varieties of measure merely furnish different signs for the same thing. To the ear they are the same, to the eye only do they differ; the movement or degree of quickness depending not in the least on the kind of notes, which represent no positive, but only a relative length.

EXAMPLES OF SOME OF THE MOST COMMON VARIETIES OF MEASURE.

CHAPTER V.

MELODICS—THE SCALE, ITS NAMES AND SIGNS.

NOTE—Before any explanation of the scale is attempted, or definitions or signs are given, let the scale itself, or a part of it, be presented, by being sung slowly and distinctly by the teacher, beginning with the pitch C, to the syllable la. Let it be repeated until the class have obtained a clear idea of it, after which, and not before, they may be required to sing it. Careful attention should be given to quality of tone, which, with everything belonging to taste, should be cultivated from the beginning. When the scale has been thus taught, or when the pupils have become so familiar with it as to have some correct appreciation of it as a connected series of tones, and can also sing it with tolerable accuracy, names, definitions, and signs may follow.

§ 18. The Scale. Musical sounds or tones, when considered with respect to the relation of pitch existing between them, are arranged in a certain series called the SCALE; thus the scale is a succession of eight tones, in a certain order of relative pitch.

§ 19. Names of the Tones of the Scale. The tones of the scale are named from the names of numbers, beginning with the lowest, thus :

ONE, TWO, THREE, FOUR, FIVE, SIX, SEVEN, EIGHT.

§ 20. The Staff. The relative pitch of tones is represented by a character called the STAFF.

§ 21. Degrees of the Staff. Each line and each space of the staff is called a DEGREE; thus the staff contains nine degrees, counted upwards from the lowest, there being five lines and four spaces.

GUIDE TO MUSICAL NOTATION—MELODIES.

§ 22. Added Lines and Spaces. The compass of the staff may be extended by additional lines above or below, called ADDED LINES, or LINES ABOVE, or LINES BELOW, or SPACES ABOVE, or SPACES BELOW. Added lines are also sometimes called LEGER LINES.

§ 23. Syllables. In elementary singing-exercises, or as helps to beginners, the following syllables are used in connection with the tones of the scale, and are applied to them, as follows :

Written.	Do,	Re,	Me,	Fa,	Sol,	La,	Si,	Do.
Pronounced.	Doe,	Ray,	Mee,	Fah,	Sol,	Lah,	See,	Doe.

§ 24. Absolute Pitch. Letters. Absolute pitch, or the pitch of tones independent of scale relationship, is indicated by letters, as A, B, C, D, E, F, G.

§ 25. C as One of the Scale. Key of C. In the first steps of musical study, C is taken as the pitch of the tone one, or as the basis of the scale, and the scale is then said to be in the key of C. The order of the scale-tones in the key of C is thus : C is one, D is two, E is three, F is four, G is five, A is six, B is seven, C is eight.

§ 26. The Scale as represented on the Staff. The scale may be represented on the staff in various positions ; the two following are the most common : 1st, the tone one being represented by the added line below ; 2d, the tone one being represented by the second space.

§ 27. Clefs. To determine the position and pitch of the scale as represented on the staff, one of the letters is used as a sign or guide, and when thus used is called a CLEF.

§ 28. Clef-Letters. The letters commonly used as clefs are F and G.

Note.—The letter C is also taken for a Clef, and when thus used it has three positions, but since it is not much used, it is not thought necessary to explain it here.

§ 29. The F Clef is placed upon the fourth line, and determines the pitch of that line to be F.

§ 30. The G Clef is placed upon the second line, and determines the pitch of that line to be G.

Note.—It should be understood that a clef is merely a letter differing in shape from its ordinary form.

§ 31. A melody or tune may proceed not only by the regularly successive steps or degrees of the scale, but also by skips.

§ 32. The easiest and most natural skips are those which occur between the tones one, three, five, and eight.

NOTE.—The pupil should be exercised in these tones, or in skipping from one to another until they become so familiar with them as to name them when they hear them, or to produce them when they are named or called for by the teacher; and from this they should be led to the practical knowledge of each tone in connection with each other tone of the scale, until they are enabled to make any skips which may be called for by the teacher.

CHAPTER VII.

EXTENSION OF THE SCALE, AND CLASSIFICATION OF VOICES.

§ 33. When tones higher than eight are sung, eight is to be regarded also, as one, of an upper scale.

PRACTICAL EXERCISES.

A musical score for 'Life's a Ship' featuring two staves of music with lyrics underneath. The first staff starts with a treble clef, a key signature of one sharp, and a common time signature. The lyrics are: 'Life's a ship in con-stant mo-tion, Whe-ther high or low,'. The second staff continues with a bass clef, a key signature of one sharp, and a common time signature. The lyrics are: 'Ev-ery one must brave the o - cean, Though the winds may blow.' The music consists of eighth-note patterns.

The musical notation consists of two staves. The top staff continues the melody from the previous stanza, with lyrics like "O well I love my na - tive land, Its fair and ver - dant". The bottom staff begins with a rest, followed by the lyrics "hills, My na - tive land full well I love, Which peace and plen - ty fills." The music is in common time, with quarter notes and eighth notes.

§ 34. When tones lower than one are sung, one is to be regarded, also, as eight, of a lower scale.

PRACTICAL EXERCISES.

A musical score for a single melodic line. The key signature is common C (no sharps or flats). The time signature is common time (indicated by a '4'). The vocal line begins with a dotted half note followed by eighth notes. The lyrics "All the day I'm sing - ing live - ly, Though the day is long," are written below the notes. The melody consists of eighth and sixteenth notes.

And from morn-ing dawn to eve - ning Sounds my hap - py song

And our cares and fears are o'er.

{ § 35. The human voice is naturally divided into four classes: low male voices, or BASE, high male voices, or TENOR; low female voices, or ALTO, high female voices, or TREBLE.

§ 36. The following example exhibits the usual compass of the human voice, and also that of the different classes, as Base, Tenor, Alto, and Treble.

NOTE.—Besides the above, there are other distinctions, as BARYTONE, between the Base and Tenor, and MEZZO SOPRANO, between the Alto and Treble. The Treble is often called SOPRANO.

§ 37. The F clef is used for Base, the G clef is used for Tenor, Alto, and Treble, but when used for Tenor it denotes G an octave lower than when used for Treble or Alto.

NOTE.—This different use of the G clef for Tenor, and for Alto or Treble, should be clearly illustrated and explained.

CHAPTER VIII.

M E L O D I C S — I N T E R V A L S .

Note.—A true knowledge of intervals can only be communicated through the ear. Names, definitions, or illustrations, may be given while the pupil obtains no correct idea of the thing itself, which can only be acquired by a careful listening to tones and comparison of them. The ear alone can appreciate or measure intervals. The subject is one which cannot be understood until the ear has been considerably trained: this is the reason why it has not been presented earlier in this course. After intervals have been taught, the following definitions will be easily understood.

§ 38. The difference of pitch between any two tones is called an INTERVAL. Thus, the difference of pitch between one and two is an interval.

§ 39. In the regular succession of the tones of the scale, there are two kinds of intervals, large and small.

§ 40. The large scale-intervals are called STEPS; and the small scale-intervals are called HALF-STEPS.

§ 41. The intervals of the scale occur in the following order:—between one and two, a step; between two and three, a step; between three and four, a half-step; between four and five, a step; between five and six, a step; between six and seven, a step; and between seven and eight, a half-step.

Note.—The terms tone and half-tone are in common use to designate these intervals: but as the application of the same word both to sounds and intervals is inconvenient, the discontinuance of the term tone and half-tone is recommended, especially in teaching. As the word ladder (scale) is used for designating the series of tones called the scale, it is quite natural to carry out the figure, and borrow from the ladder the word step by which to designate scale-intervals.

ILLUSTRATION OF THE MUSICAL LADDER, WITH ITS ROUNDS AND STEPS; OR OF THE SCALE, WITH ITS TONES AND INTERVALS.

CHAPTER IX.

THE MINOR SCALE.

§ 42. In addition to the scale already explained, there is another scale, differing from that in the relation or succession of its tones, or in the order of its intervals, called the MINOR SCALE; it is the soft scale of the Germans.

Note.—The scale which has already been explained, based on C, or of which C is one, may now be called the MAJOR SCALE.

§ 43. The natural Minor Scale is based upon A, or upon six of the Major Scale

Note.—The term natural is used here to indicate that the tones of which the scale is composed are the same as those belonging to the scale already explained.

Note.—The explanation here given refers to the natural Minor Scale only; the artificial Minor Scale will be explained hereafter.

CHAPTER X.

THE CHROMATIC SCALE.

§ 44. Intermediate Tones. Between those tones of the scale which form the interval of a step, an intermediate tone may be introduced: thus, intermediate tones may occur between one and two, two and three, four and five, five and six, and six and seven; but not between three and four, and seven and eight, because the intervals between these tones are already half-steps, and these are the smallest practicable intervals known in the musical system.

§ 45. Names of Intermediate Tones The intermediate tones are named from the scale-tones between which they occur, but with the addition of the word SHARP or FLAT prefixed or suffixed, to distinguish the name of the former from those of the latter. Thus, the intermediate tone between one and two, or between C and D, may be named from either of these; if named from one, the word sharp is prefixed, and it is called SHARP-ONE; if named from two, the word flat is prefixed, and it is called FLAT-TWO; again, if named from C, the word sharp is suffixed, and it is called C-SHARP; or if named from D, the word flat is suffixed, and it is called D-FLAT. The same principle is applied to the naming of all the other intermediate tones.

Note.—The word sharp is used as a name for a tone, and signifies higher; thus, by sharp-one is meant a tone which is higher than one, yet not so high as two; again, the word flat, when used as the name of a tone, signifies lower; thus, by flat-two is meant a tone which is lower than two, yet not so low as one.

§ 46. Representation of Intermediate Tones. An intermediate tone is represented by a note on the same degree of the staff as is the scale-tone from which it is named; thus, the tone named sharp-one is represented on the same degree of the staff as is the tone named one, but with a character prefixed to the same degree of the staff, called a SHARP (\sharp). So also, the tone named flat-two is represented by a note on the same degree of the staff as is the tone named two, but with a character prefixed to the same degree of the staff, called a FLAT (\flat).

Note.—It will be observed that the words sharp and flat are used both as names of tones, and as names of characters, signs, or marks of notation.

§ 47. Chromatic Scale. A scale consisting of thirteen tones, including the eight scale-tones, and the five intermediate tones, having twelve intervals of a half-step each, is called the CHROMATIC SCALE.

§ 48. Diatonic Scale. The scale which was first described is called the DIATONIC SCALE. The minor scale is also diatonic.

Syllables.	Do,	Si,	Se,	La,	Le,	Sol,	Se,	Fa,	Me,	Bi,	Re,

Note.—The letter i should always receive the sound of ee in the above syllables; thus Di is pronounced Dee, Ri is pronounced Ree, etc. Again, the letter e should always receive the sound of the English long a, so that Se is pronounced Sa, Le is pronounced La, etc.

§ 49. The characters called sharps and flats continue their significance throughout the measure in which they occur, and also from measure to measure when the same tone is to be repeated, or until canceled by a note written upon some other degree of the staff.

NOTE.—The teacher should be careful to cause his pupils to understand that C \sharp is not C raised or elevated, and that D \flat is not D lowered or depressed, but that the tone C \sharp or D \flat (by whichever name it may be called) is an independent tone, being in pitch between C and D. It is not possible to elevate or to depress the pitch of a tone. Absolute pitch is, of course, unalterable. The error here pointed out is found in most treatises on music, see "Manual of the Boston Academy of Music," the previous editions of this work, and various other books. It is equally untrue, to say that a sharp raises or elevates, or lowers or depresses a note.

§ 50. Sharps and flats are canceled, or their significance is terminated by a sign called a NATURAL (I).

NOTE.—Practical exercises are omitted under this head, since it is generally preferable that an ability to sing chromatic passages should be acquired in connection with tunes, or melodies, in which they are found.

CHAPTER XI.

DIATONIC INTERVALS.

§ 51. In addition to the scale-intervals, or to the intervals belonging to the scale in its regular progression, called steps and half-steps, there are also other intervals occasioned by a departure from the regular scale order, or by skipping: as THIRDS, FOURTHS, FIFTHS, SIXTHS, SEVENTHS, and OCTAVES, and there may be MAJOR and MINOR, i. e., larger or smaller.

§ 52. Intervals are always reckoned from the lower tone upwards, unless otherwise expressed.

NOTE.—Tables, or descriptions of these intervals are omitted, as well as exercises in them, since they are better learned by a concrete than by an abstract practice.

CHAPTER XII.

THE MINOR SCALE, CONTINUED.

§ 53. In addition to the natural form of the Minor Scale, as already explained, there are also others, which, being altered from the natural, may be called artificial forms.

§ 54. The first in the present order, is that which differs from the natural form by the introduction of the tone sharp seven, and which is often called the Harmonic Minor Scale.

EXAMPLE.

§ 55. The second is that which differs from the natural form in ascending, by the introduction of sharp six and sharp seven, but in descending, returns to the natural form; it is often called the Melodic Minor Scale.

EXAMPLE.

NOTE.—Composers and theoretic writers present still other forms of the Minor scale, but which it can be of no practical importance to explain.

§ 56. The natural minor scale commences with A, or A is taken as its pitch, or as one; and as A is six in the major scale of C, it follows, that the minor scale is based upon six of the major scale.

NOTE.—The pupil should be reminded that the word natural, as here used, has reference only to the name of the pitch of the scale, and its representation to the eye.

§ 57. The minor scale based upon six of the major scale, is called its relative minor; and the major scale, based upon three of the minor scale, is called its relative major.

NOTE.—Practical exercises are omitted here, but will be found in connection with the transposition of the scale.

CHAPTER XIII.

TRANSPOSITION OF THE SCALE.

§ 58. When the scale is based on C, it is said to be in its natural position, or natural; but the pitch of the scale may be changed, and, when any other pitch than C is taken as one of the scale, it is said to be TRANSPOSED.

NOTE.—The transposition of the Scale consists not in any change of the position of the notes by which it is represented on the staff, for it may be represented in different positions, while its pitch remains the same, or it may be represented in the same position while its pitch is changed; but it consists in changing the pitch, or in taking some other pitch besides C, as one, or as the basis of the scale.

§ 59. The letter which is taken as the pitch of the scale, or as one, is called the KEY LETTER, or simply the KEY. Thus, if C be taken as one, the scale is said to be in the KEY OF C; if D be taken as one, the scale is said to be in the KEY OF D, and so on. By the key of C, is meant that the scale is based on C, or that C is taken as one; by the key of D, is meant that the Scale is based on D, or that D is taken as one, and so on.

§ 60. In transposing the scale, its proper relations, or its proper intervals, must be preserved: thus, if the transposition be from C to G, or if G be taken as one, the tone which is a step higher than G, named by another letter (A), will necessarily be two; that tone which is a step higher than A, named by another letter (B), will be three; the tone which is a half step higher than B, named by another letter (C), will be four; and so on.

§ 61. This scale relationship, or the proper order of scale intervals, must be preserved by the introduction, or use, of the intermediate tones, or the tones named sharp, or flat; or, in other words, in transposing the scale, it is necessary to omit certain tones belonging to the key, from which the transposition is made, and to introduce such intermediate tones as may be required to constitute the new key.

NOTE.—The difficulty in transposing the scale consists in the transfer of absolute to relative pitch.

CHAPTER XIV.

TRANSPOSITION OF THE SCALE BY FIFTHS.

§ 62. First transposition of the scale by fifths, from C to G. All the tones which constitute the key of C will be found to belong also to the key of G, with the exception of F.

§ 63. To preserve the proper order of intervals between six and seven, and between seven and eight in this transposition, it is necessary to omit F, and to take F sharp as seven in the new key.

§ 64. The sign of F sharp (#) is placed at the beginning of the staff, immediately after the clef, and is called the SIGNATURE (sign) of the key. Thus, the signature of the key of G, and also of its relative minor E, is one sharp, or F sharp. The signature of the key of C, and also of its relative minor A, is said to be natural.

NOTE.—The true idea of transposition cannot be acquired from verbal explanations, or descriptions, or from signs, diagrams, or ocular illustrations; the subject can only be fully appreciated by the presentation of the reality through the ear. The words used to define transposition, or the signs of transposition, are often mistaken for the reality, and pupils are supposed to understand the thing itself, when they have only been made acquainted with its nomenclature, or with the manner of its representation. But while transposition is one thing, and a visual illustration of it quite another, insufficient, of itself, yet, since illustrations of the kind may be of some aid to the learner, we present the following:—

ILLUSTRATION OF THE TRANSPOSITION OF THE SCALE FROM C TO G.

EXPLANATION.—On the upper staff, in the above diagram, the Scale is represented in the Key of C. The distances of the notes, one from another, represent the intervals. On the lower staff, G is taken as one, A as two, B as three, C as four, D as five, E as six; and thus far the intervals are right. But as the interval between six and seven must be a step, it is seen at once that F will not do for seven, because the interval between E and F is but a half-step; it becomes necessary, therefore, to omit F, and to take the intermediate tone, F#, for seven, and this secures the proper interval between six and seven, viz., a step. The interval between F# and G being a half-step, G is taken as eight, and the Scale is complete in the key of G; so that the tones which constitute the Scale in the key of G, are, G, A, B, C, D, E, F#, and G.

TRANSPOSITION OF THE SCALE BY FOURTHS.

§ 68. First transposition of the scale by fourths; from C to F. To preserve the identity of the scale, or the proper order of intervals between three and four, and between four and five, in this transposition, it is necessary to take B \sharp as four in the new key. B \sharp is, therefore, the signature to the key of F.

CHAPTER XVI.

APPOGGIATURA—TURN—SHAKE OR TRILL—PORTAMENTO.

§ 72. Passing Tones. Tones not essentially belonging to a melody are often introduced into music, called PASSING TONES. They are sometimes represented by notes of smaller size than those in which the music is written, though this distinction is not generally observed.

§ 73. Appoggiatura. When a passing tone precedes an essential tone on an accented part of a measure, it is called an APPOGGIATURA.

§ 74. After Tone. When a passing tone follows an essential tone, on an unaccented part of a measure, it is called an AFTER TONE.

§ 75. The Shake or Trill. A rapid alternation of a tone with the conjoint tone above it, at an interval of either a step or a half-step, is called a SHAKE or TRILL.

§ 76. The Turn. A tone sung in rapid succession with the conjoint tones above and below it, so as to produce a winding or turning melodic motion or movement, is called a TURN.

§ 77. Portamento. When the voice is instantaneously conducted by a concrete passage, or graceful and almost imperceptible glide, from one tone to another, so as to produce a momentary previous recognition or anticipation of the coming tone, such a carriage or transition of the voice, or such a blending or melting of one tone into another, is called PORTAMENTO.

NOTE 1.—The portamento should only occur between tones of comparatively long duration, and in connection with words or tones expressive of deep emotion. This beautiful grace, which, when properly introduced, gives an inexpressible charm to singing, is sometimes, very often, most sadly misrepresented, caricatured, or counterfeited, and coarse slides, or vocal avalanches are heard in its place. Ferrari, in his "Singing Method," has applied the very significant term "harsh shrieks" to these frightful lurchings of the voice; but, by whatever name they may be called, they should be most watchfully and determinedly eschewed.

NOTE 2.—The ornaments, graces, or embellishments of vocal music, some of which have been merely glanced at in this chapter, with the partial exception of passing tones, cannot be said to belong to ordinary singing, and certainly not to choir or chorus-singing. The turn, the shake, and the portamento, rather belong to that artistic style which can only be acquired by the few possessing naturally great flexibility of voice, accuracy of ear, quickness of musical perception, and habits of persevering application; nor should they be attempted, even by these, until they have been carefully studied for years under the direction of an accomplished teacher.

CHAPTER XVII.

DEGREES OF POWER.

§ 78. Mezzo. A musical sound of medium power or force is called MEZZO, (pronounced met-zo;) such a sound is indicated by the term mezzo, or by an abbreviation of it, as mez., or by its initial, m.

§ 79. Piano. A tone somewhat softer than mezzo, or a soft tone, is called PIANO, (pee-äh-no,) and is indicated by the term piano, pia., or p.

§ 80. Forte. A tone somewhat louder than mezzo, or a loud tone, is called FORTE, (fôr-te, or four-te,) and is indicated by the term forte, för., or f.

§ 81. Pianissimo. A tone softer than piano is called PIANNISSIMO, (pee-äh-niss-i-mo,) and is indicated by pp.

§ 82. Fortissimo. A tone louder than forte is called FORTISSIMO, (fore-tiss-i-mo,) and is indicated by ff.

NOTE.—There are also modifications of the above-named degrees of power, as Mezzo-Forte, Mezzo-Piano.

CHAPTER XVIII.

FORM OF TONES.

§ 83. Organ Form. A tone commenced, continued, and ended with an equal degree of power, is called an ORGAN FORM, or an ORGAN TONE. It may be indicated by parallel lines, thus: —

NOTE 1.—The Organ Form takes its name from the organ pipe, which can only produce a tone of one equal degree of power.

NOTE 2.—The Organ Form is not often used in vocal music, except in passages in which one part holds a steady tone for a considerable time, while the other parts sing various harmonies.

§ 84. Crescendo Form. A tone commencing piano, and gradually increasing to forte, is called CRESCENDO, (cre-schén-do.) It is indicated by cres., or by two divergent lines, thus: —

§ 85. Diminuendo Form. A tone commencing forte, and gradually diminishing to piano, is called DECRESCENDO or DIMINUENDO, (dé-cre-schen-do, or dim-in-oo-en-do.) It is intimated by de cres., dim., or by two convergent lines, thus: —

§ 86. Swell. A union of the crescendo and the decrescendo produces the SWELL FORM: indicated by the union of the divergent and convergent lines, thus: <>

NOTE 1.—The swell is sometimes called the Drawn Tone; the term Messa di voce, is also used to designate this tone form.

NOTE 2.—The acquisition of this form of tone is one of the most difficult things in the art of song. It constitutes the polish or finishing touch in artistic excellence. "It is the result," says Garcia, in his admirable "School of Singing," "of all other studies;" and again, "to draw the tones well is to be a good singer."

NOTE 3.—The application of Crescendo, and Diminuendo to phrases and sections, or to passages of several measures, is comparatively easy, and constitutes one of the greatest beauties of choir singing.

§ 87. Pressure Form. A very sudden crescendo or swell, is called the PRESSURE FORM. It is thus marked, < or >.

NOTE.—This dynamic form is sometimes used to express ridicule, sarcasm, or irony. It belongs mostly to burlesque, to the ludicrous, or to the comic in singing.

§ 88. Sforzando. A tone which is produced very suddenly and forcibly, and instantly diminished, is called an EXPLOSIVE TONE, or SFORZANDO, or FORZANDO, (sfôrt-zán do, or fôrt-zán-do.) It is designated thus >, or by sf, or sz.

NOTE 1.—This tone-form is of great importance both to the speaker and to the singer. The energetic style of singing, as in many of Handel's choruses, for example, is much dependent upon it; indeed some degree of it is always needed in the very first utterance of the voice, for without it the tone will be destitute of life and expression. Its power is distinctly felt in the manner in which good performers on stringed or wind instruments produce their tones, or in the very first utterance of a tone, or in the manner in which the attack is made upon it. Much of the dullness, heaviness, stupidity, and lifelessness so prevalent in vocal music, and especially in choir-singing, is to be attributed to the absence of this dynamic form of delivery. It is by no means intended that every tone should be given Sforzando; far indeed from this, but the element of Sforzando is to tones the life-giving power. It is, however, very liable to be overdone, and even caricatured; it requires, therefore, much discretion in its application, for, unless it be directed by good taste, it will be likely to degenerate into a mere lunging or jerking of the voice, grunting, coarse, and disagreeable.

NOTE 2.—The mark indicating the pressure form of tone is often printed instead of that which indicates the Forzando. The observance of the mark as thus erroneously applied would, in many cases, be quite ludicrous. The mark is often applied in this form, ^.

CHAPTER XIX.

EMISSION OF TONE, PURITY OF TONE, WORDS, ETC.

NOTE.—If there is anything of elementary importance in teaching singing-classes, it is that of vocal utterance, or the emission of the voice. This should engage the most careful attention of the teacher from the very first attempts of the pupil to produce musical sounds. A good delivery of the voice, and also purity of tone, should be sought for in the very first lessons, and they should be kept constantly in view during the whole course of instruction.

§ 89. Emission of Tone. Vocal utterance, or the emission of tone, should be instantaneous, decided, and firm; without drawling, hesitancy, unsteadiness, and the like. The tone should be produced by a very distinct movement or motion of the glottis, which, being shut, is suddenly opened for the emission of the sound, as by a "vigorous shock." This motion, or "shock of the glottis," has been compared to the action of the lips energetically pronouncing the letter p, or to the action in the vault of the palate in articulating the hard c, as in come, or k, as in kind. The tone thus produced strikes the ear at the precise point of time, as by percussion. Like a spark from a living coal, it has life and power, and makes itself felt. Garcia, in his singing-school, says, "I recommend the shock of the glottis as the only means of obtaining sounds purely and without bungling;" and again he says, "the master must insist on the tones being attained by the shock of the glottis."

NOTE 1.—Any one who gives attention to the production of tones by a good instrumentalist, or to the manner in which they strike the ear when the attack is made upon them, or when they are first brought forth by a skilful player, cannot fail to observe their great superiority in promptness and energy of delivery to those usually heard in singing. The contrast between the delivery of instrumental and vocal tones in a performance of choral music with orchestral accompaniment is very great; while the instrumental tones will be given with decision, pith, and character, the voice will be tardily drawn out, heavy, dull, and lifeless. Indeed, choir or chorus-singing can hardly be heard without revealing the fact that whatever proficiency may have been made in reading music, so far as it relates to time and tune, the proper use of the vocal organs in the enunciation or emission of tone has been sadly neglected.

NOTE 2.—Caution. In the attempt to acquire the true delivery of the voice, there is danger that one may go too far, and substitute a shock of the lungs, or of the chest, or of the whole vocal region for one of the glottis merely. This may result in a violent outbreak, rough and boisterous, calling forth the remark, "he sings by main force." It hardly need be said that this extreme should be avoided. There is a proper medium for the utterance of tones, between a careless, indolent, drawing manner on the one hand, and a terrible vocal eruption on the other.

NOTE 3.—Let it not be supposed that an accurate idea of the production of vocal tones can be communicated by any attempt at description; the true idea can only be imparted by illustration, or by living example. No one who cannot himself produce a tone in a proper manner, can teach a pupil to do so, for by pattern, or by example, the work must be done. As it is of little use for a man to preach religion who is not himself a virtuous or good man, so the work of a teacher of vocal music, who, in addition to good definitions or descriptions, does not also give good vocal examples, cannot be of much value.

§ 90. Purity of Tone. A tone is pure when it is full, round, sonorous, and resonant, and when no extraneous sound is mixed with it; it is impure when it is stifled or muffled, when it is guttural or nasal, or when it partakes of an aspirated, husky, or hissing quality.

NOTE.—"The purest tone is obtained, first, by flattening the whole length of the tongue; second, by partially raising the veil of the palate; third, by separating the pillars at their base."—GARCIA.

NOTE.—The complaint is often made that the words cannot be heard, or are not carefully spoken in singing; but it cannot be expected that one who delivers the voice (tones) in a careless, indifferent, lifeless manner, should articulate or pronounce words in any other way, whereas, if the habit of a careful utterance or emission of tones has been formed, it is almost sure that there will be a corresponding attention to words. A proper production of tones is a pre-requisite to a good enunciation of words.

§ 91. Vowel or Tonic Elements. It is upon the tonic sounds (vowels), only, that the voice should dwell in singing. They should be formed with accuracy, and carefully prolonged, without change. To insure this, the same position of the vocal organs should be preserved during the whole continuance of a tone, no change or motion of the throat, mouth, or tongue, nor indeed of the head or body, should be permitted.

NOTE.—It is a very common fault for singers to pass from the tonic element, and to allow the voice to dwell upon a subordinate sound; as the vanish of a compound tonic element, or some succeeding or final consonant sound admitting of prolongation. Thus, for example, the word arm, is often erroneously sung ä---rm, or är---m, instead of ä---rm; the word great, is sung grä---et, or græ---et, instead of grä---t; the word charge, is sung chä---r---ge, or char---ge, instead of chä---rge; the word fear, is sung fear---, or fē---ar---, instead of fē---ar. It would be easy to multiply examples, but these must suffice.

§ 92. The most important vocal element to the singer is that which is heard in the word ah, as in arm, harm, charge, calm, etc., and which is represented by the letter a with two dots over it, thus, ä. This is the richest, most open, broad, and euphonious sound that can be found in any language, or that can be produced by the human voice. It is also the most natural sound, for, while all other sounds require some preparation or modification of the vocal organs, this is produced by merely dropping the under jaw, so as to open the mouth in the most easy and natural way. It is of great importance that the pupil should acquire the true sound of this element, since it prepares the way for all the others.

NOTE.—This is not the place to attempt a full description of the elements of the language; a teacher of vocal music must be supposed to be familiar with these. It may be well, however, to say, that the tonic element heard in the word Do (Doo), will be found very useful, especially for softening and smoothing the voice.

§ 93. Consonants. These should be delivered quickly, smartly, distinctly, and with the greatest precision. Yet, since they do not sing, they should be given with no more force than is necessary clearly to identify the word spoken. The neglect of a careful utterance of the consonants, is a principal cause of indistinctness in the articulation of words.

§ 94. Accent, Emphasis, and Pause. The laws to which accent, emphasis, and pause are subject in reading, should also be observed, generally, in singing; but if poetry is to receive a musical expression, it must be, to some extent, subjected to the laws of music; yet the laws of music must not be permitted to conflict with those of elocution, but such a liberal interpretation of both must be allowed as will enable the singer most happily and effectively to unite the two—speech and song.

§ 95. Finally, in all vocal performances close attention should be given to both words and music. The singer should grasp the spirit of both, and make them his own; he should make an entire surrender of himself to his work, throw in his whole soul into the performance, and produce a living song, which shall draw out his own heart, and the hearts of those who hear; so shall he produce the effect for which music is designed, and for which it is so admirably adapted.

Moderato.

1. The Lord my pas-ture shall prepare, And feed me with a shepherd's care ;
 His presence shall my wants sup-ply And guard me with a watchful eye : } My noon-day walks he shall at-tend, an' all my mid-night hours defend.

2. When in the sul-try glebe I faint, Or on the thirsty mountain pant, { To fer-tile vales and dew-y meads, My weary, wand'ring steps he leads ; Where peaceful rivers, soft and slow, A-mid the ver-dant landscape flow.

EFFINGHAM. L. M.

Allegretto.

1. The Lord pro-claims his power a-loud Through eve-ry o-cean, eve-ry land ; His voice di-vides the wa-tery cloud, And light-nings blaze at his com-mand.

2. The Lord sits sove-reign on the flood, O'er earth he reigns for-ev-er king ; But makes his church his blest a-bode, Where we his aw-ful glo-ries sing.

3. In gen-tler language, there the Lord The coun-se'l of his grace im-parts : A-mid the rag-ing storm, his word Speaks peace and coin-fort to our hearts.

Moderato.

1. Blest is the man, whose ten-der care, Relieves the poor in their dis - tress; Whose pity wipes the widow's tear, Whose hand supports the fa - ther - less.

2. His heart contrives for their re-lief More good than his own hand can do ; He, in the time of general grief, Shall find the Lord has pi - ty too.

MALVERN. L. M.

In a gentle, subdued manner.

1. God is the re-fuge of his saints, When storms of sharp distress in-vade : Ere we can of - fer our complaints, Be-hold him pres-ent with his aid.

2. Loud may the troubled o-cean roar, In sacred peace our souls a - bide, While every na-tion, ev -'ry shore Trembles and dreads the swell-ing tide.

3. There is a stream, whose gen-tle flow Supplies the ei - ty of our God ! Life, love, and joy still glid-ing thro', And wat'ring our di - vine a - bode.

CANTERBURY. C. M.

From "Playford's Psalms and Hymns in Soleman Musick," 1671.

The Lord is on - ly my sup - port, And he that doth me feed: How can I then lack a - ny - thing, Where - of I stand in need.

Rather Slow.

1. Soon as I heard my Father say, "Ye children seek my grace;"
My heart replied without de-lay, "I'll seek my fa-ther's face." Let not thy face be hid from me, Nor frown my soul a-way; God of my life I fly to thee, In each dis-tressing hour.
2. Should friends and kindred near and dear, Leave me to want or die,
My God will make my life his care, And all my need sup-ply. Wait on the Lord, ye trembling saints, And keep your courage up; He'll raise your spirit when it faints, And far exceed your hope.

Moderato.

1. Sing to the Lord, ye dis-tant lands, Ye tribes of ev'-ry tongue; His new dis-cov-ered grace de-mands A new and no-b-le song.
2. Say to the na-tions Je-sus reigns, God's own al-migh-ty Son; His power the sink-ing world sus-tains, And grace sur-rounds his throne.
3. Let an un-u-sual joy sur-prise The is-lands of the sea;—Ye moun-tains, sink, ye val-leys, rise, Pre-pare the Lord his way.
4. Be-hold he comes—he comes to bless The na-tions, as their God; To show the world his righteous-ness, And send his truth a-broad.

KELSO. S. M.

With firmness and steadiness of time. Maestoso.

Verse.

From J. P. SCHMIDT.
Chorus.

1. My soul, repeat his praise, Whose mercies are so great; Whose anger is so slow to rise, So rea-dy to a-bate, So rea--dy to a-bate.

Dim.f

2. His pow'r subdues our sins, And his for-giv-ing love, Far as the east is from the west, Doth all our guilt re-mo-ve, Doth all . . . our guilt re-mo-ve.

Andante.

1. The Savior's glorious name Forever shall endure, Long as the sun, his matchless fame Shall ever stand secure; Long as the sun, his matchless fame Shall ever stand secure.
 2. Wonders of grace and power To thee alone belong; Thy church those wonders shall adore In everlasting song; Thy church those wonders shall adore In everlasting song
 3. O Israel, bless him still, His name to honor raise; Let all the earth his glory fill, Midst songs of grateful praise; Let all the earth his glory fill, Midst songs of grateful praise.
 4. Jehovah, God most high, We spread thy praise abroad; Thro' all the world thy fame shall fly, O God, thine Israel's God! Thro' all the world thy fame shall fly, O God, thine Israel's God!

1. Thy name, Al - migh-ty Lord, Shall sound through dis-tant lands: Great is thy grace and sure thy word; Thy truth for - ev - er stands.
2. Far be thine hon - or spread, And long thy praise en - dure; Till morning light and eve-ning shade Shall be ex-changed no more.

REHOBOOTH. S. M. (DOUBLE)

From F. SILCHER.

Andante.

1. The Lord my shepherd is; I shall be well sup - plied; Since he is mine and I am his, What can I want be - side ?

2. He leads me to the place, Where heavenly pas-ture grows; Where liv - ing wa -ters gently pass, And full sal - va - tion flows.

SELVIN. S. M.

Arrangement by L. MASON.

Andante.

1. If through unruffled seas, Toward heaven we calmly sail, With grateful hearts, O God to thee, We'll own the fostering gale, With grateful hearts, O God, to thee, We'll own, &c.

2. But should the surges rise, And rest de-lay to come, Blest be the sorrow, kind the storm, Which drives us nearer home, Blest be the sorrow, kind the storm, Which drives, &c.

3. Soon shall our doubts and fears, All yield to thy control; Thy tender mercies shall illume The midnight of the soul, Thy tender mercies shall illumine The mi - of the soul.

2. Bul-warks of grace de-fend The ci - ty where we dwell, While walls,.... of strong salvation made, De - fy.... th' as - saults of hell.

DEXTER. S. M.

Spirited, bold, but not hurried.

1. Grace! 'tis a charming sound! Har-mo-nious to the ear! Heav'n with the echo shall resound, Heav'n with the echo shall resound, And all the earth shall hear.

2. Grace first contrived a way To save re - bel-lious man; And all its steps that grace display, And all its steps that grace display, Which drew the wondrous plan.

3. Grace taught my rov-ing feet To tread the heavenly road: And new supplies each hour I meet, And new supplies each hour I meet, While pressing on to God.

HYMN. Watchman! tell us of the night

Treble & Alto. Larghetto.

Tenor.

1 Watchman! watchman! tell us of the night, What its signs of prom-ise are.—
 2. Watchman! watchman! tell us of the night, High-er yet that star ascends,
 3. Watchman! watchman! tell us of the night, For the morning seems to dawn.—

Trav'-ler! o'er yon mountain's height, See that glo - ry - beaming star.
 Trav'-ler! bless-edness and light, Peace and truth, its course portends!—
 Trav'-ler! darkness takes its flight, Doubt and ter-ror are withdrawn.—

Treble & Alto.

Tenor.

Watchman! does its beauteous ray Aught of hope or joy fore-tell?— Trav'-ler! yes; it brings the day— Promised day of Is - - ra - el.
 Watchman! will its beams a - lone Gild the spot that gave them birth?— Trav'-ler! a - ges are its own, See, it bursts o'er all the earth.
 Watchman! let thy wanderings cease; Hie thee to thy qui - et home.— Trav'-ler! lo! the Prince of Peace, Lo! the Son of God is come.

Base.

Chorus.

Trav'-ler' yes . it brings the day Promised day of Is - - ra - - el, Prom - ised day of Is - - - - ra - - el.
 Trav'-ler a - ges are its own See, it bursts o'er all the earth, See it bursts o'er all the earth.

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

Moderato.

Musical score for the first part of The Lord's Prayer. The music is in common time (indicated by '2') and consists of two staves. The top staff uses a soprano C-clef, and the bottom staff uses an alto F-clef. The key signature is one flat (B-flat). The melody is primarily composed of eighth-note chords. The lyrics are: "Our Fa - ther who art in heav'n; Hal-low - ed be thy name: Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heav'n: Give us this".

day our dai - ly bread: And for-give us our tres-pass - es as we for-give them that tres-pass a-against us: And lead us not in - to temp -

Musical score for the second part of The Lord's Prayer. The music continues in common time with the same key signature. The melody remains mostly eighth-note chords. The lyrics are: "day our dai - ly bread: And for-give us our tres-pass - es as we for-give them that tres-pass a-against us: And lead us not in - to temp -".

ta - tion, but de - liv - er us from e - vil; For thine is the kingdom, and the pow-er, and the glo - ry, for - ev - er and ev - er, A -- men.

Musical score for the concluding part of The Lord's Prayer. The music is in common time with one flat. The melody is mostly eighth-note chords. The lyrics are: "ta - tion, but de - liv - er us from e - vil; For thine is the kingdom, and the pow-er, and the glo - ry, for - ev - er and ev - er, A -- men.". The score includes dynamic markings such as crescendo (cres.) and decrescendo (decres.)

In some parts of Germany the Lord's Prayer is chanted by the Lutheran Priests at the altar, to music moving (as do the lamentations of the Catholic Church) only by a few small and easy intervals, almost always within the range of one to four of the scale, and producing a peculiarly devout, child-like and supplicant expression. The music here set to the same words, is in the spirit and style of the German, and from the words "For thine is the kingdom" to the end it is almost exactly the same as was heard under the circumstances above mentioned.

HYMN. "Daughter of Zion." (RICHLAND, 11s metre.)

With spirit and energy.

1. Daughter of Zi-on! a-wake from thy sadness! A-wake! for thy foes shall oppress thee no more; — Bright o'er thy hills dawns the day-star of gladness, A-rise! for the night of thy

HYMN. "Hail to the brightness." (11s & 10s metre.)

1. Hail to the or-gniness of Zion's glad morning! Joy to the lands that in darkness have lain; Hush'd be the accents of sorrow and mourning, Zi-on triumphant be-gins her mild reign.
 2. Hail to the brightness of Zion's glad morning! Long by the prophets of Is-rael fore-told: Hail to the millions from bondage re-turn-ing, Gentiles and Jews now the Saviour behold.
 3. Lo, in the des-ert, rich flowers are springing, Streams ev-er copious are glid-ing a-long; Loud from the mountains the echoes are ringing, Vallics in verduze u-nite in the song.
 4. See from the na-tions, the isles of the o-cean, Praise to Je-ho-vah as-cend-ing on high; Fall'n are the engines of war and com-mo-tion, Shouts of sal-vat-ion are rending the sky

The time of this Anthem has frequently been taken much too slow. There should be three rather quick countings or beatings in a measure. The beats should be about as quick as in the tune Howard, or St. Martin's when these tunes are sung in a spirited and lively manner. The first eight measures should be sung in 15 seconds.

Moderato.

1. The morn-ing light is break-ing, The dark-ness dis-ap-pears, The sons of earth are wak-ing To pen-i-ten-tial tears.
 2. Rich dews of grace come o'er us, In many a gen-tle show'r, And bright-er scencs be-fore us, Are ope-ning eve-ry hour;
 3. See heath-en na-tions bend-ing, Be-fore the God we love, And thousand hearts as-cend-ing In grat-i-tude a-bove;
 4. Blest riv-er of sal-va-tion, Pur-sue thy on-ward way, Flow thou to eve-ry na-tion, Nor in thy rieh-ncss stay,

Each breeze that sweeps the o-cean, Brings ti-dings from a-far, Of na-tions in eom-mo-tion, Pre-par'd for Zi-on's war.
 Each cry to heav-en go-ing, A-bun-dant an-swers brings, And heavenly winds are blow-ing, With peace up-on their wings.

While sin-ners now con-fes-sing, The gos-pel call o-bey, And seek the Sa-viour's bless-ing, A na-tion in a day.
 Stay not till all the low-ly Tri-umphant reach their home; Stay not till all the ho-ly Pro-claim "The Lord is come."

HYMN. Lo, God is here!

With solemnity.

1. Lo, God is here! let us adore, And own how dreadful is this place! Let all with-in us feel his power, And si-lent bow be-fore his face!

2. Lo, God is here! him day and night United choirs of angels sing: To him, enthroned a-bove all height, Let saints their humble worship bring.

3. Lord God of hosts! oh may our praise Thy courts with grateful fragrance fill: Still may we stand be-fore thy face, Still hear and do thy sovereign will.

HYMN. There is a fountain filled with blood.

Not too fast.

2d ending.

1. There is a fountain, filled with blood Drawn from Immanuel's veins; And sinners, plunged beneath that flood, Lose all their guilty stains, Lose all their guilty stains.
 2. The dying thief rejoiced to see That fountain, in his day; And there may I, though vile as he, Wash all my sins away, Wash all my sins away.

3. Thou dying Lamb! thy precious blood Shall never lose its power, Till all the ransomed church of God Are saved, and sin no more, Are saved, and sin no more.
 4. Since first, by faith, I saw the stream Thy flowing wounds supply, Redeeming love has been my theme, And shall be, till I die, And shall be, till I die.

5. And when this feeble, stammering tongue Lies silent in the grave, Then, in a nobler, sweeter song, I'll sing thy power to save, [OMIT.] I'll sing thy power to save

NOTE. The bars (|) separate the words sung to the chanting note from those sung in the cadence. This mark (^) shows where breath may be taken. Words having this mark (-) over them, may be a very little prolonged. The dots (·) serve to which note of the cadence the words are sung, when there are more than two syllables. The dash (—) shows that the word is to be prolonged, throughout the measure.

PSALM 99.

1. { The Lord reigneth;⁴ let the people tremble:⁴
He sitteth between the cherubim;⁴ let the earth be moved.
2. { The Lord is great in Zion,⁴
And he is high above all people;⁴
Let them praise thy great and terrible name,⁴ for it is holy.
3. { The king's strength also loveth judgment;⁴
Thou dost establish equity:⁴
Thou executest judgment and righteousness in Ja — cob.
4. { Exalt ye the Lord our God,⁴
And worship at his footstool,⁴
For he is holy.
5. { Moses and Aaron among his priests,⁴
And Samuel among them that call upon his name,⁴
They called upon the Lord,⁴ and he answer'd them.
6. { He spake unto them in the cloudy pillar:⁴
They kept his testimonies, and the ordinance that he gave them
7. { Thou answeredst them, O Lord our God;⁴
Thou wast a God that forgavest them,⁴
Though thou tookest vengeance of their reventions.
8. { Exalt the Lord our God,⁴
And worship at his holy hill:⁴
For the Lord our God is holy.

I have trusted also in the Lord;⁴
Therefore I shall not slide.
2. { Examine me, O Lord, and prove me;⁴
Try my reins .. and my heart.
3. { For thy loving-kindness is before mine eyes:⁴
And I have walk'd .. in thy truth
4. { I have not sat with vain persons,⁴
Neither will I .. go .. with dis- semblers.
5. { I have hated the congregation of evil doers;⁴
And will not sit .. with the wicked.
6. { I will wash my hands in innocence;⁴
So will I compass .. thine altar .. O Lord.
7. { That I may publish with the voice of thanksgiving;⁴
And tell of all thy wondrous works.
8. { Lord I have loved the habitation of thy house,⁴
And the place where thine honor dwelleth.
9. { Gather not my soul with sinners,⁴
Nor my life with bloody men.
10. { In whose hands is mischief,⁴
And their right hand is full of bribes
11. { But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity;⁴
Redeem me, and be merciful unto me
12. { My foot standeth in an even place
In the congregation I will bless the Lord

Far re-moved from pain and anguish, They are chanting hymns a - bove. 5. Now, ye mourners, cease to lan - guish O'er the graves of those ye love;

BOLAR. C. M.

CH. ZEUNER

Allegro Moderato.

1. Songs of im-mor - tal praise be-long To my al - migh-ty God: He has my heart—and he my tongue, To spread his name a-broad, To spread his name abroad.

2. How great the works his hand has wrought! How glorious in our sight! And men in eve-ry age have sought His wonders with de-light, His wonders with delight

1. Hark! the song of ju - bi - lee, Loud, as migh - ty thunders roar; Or the fullness of the sea, When it breaks up - on the shore.

2. See Je-ho-vah's banners furled! Sheathed his sword: he speaks,'tis done! Now the kingdoms of this world Are the king - doms of his Son.

SUBMISSION. S. M.

J. T.

How sweet to leave the world awhile, And seek the presence of the Lord, From day to day we hum - bly own The hand that feeds us still;

Blest Saviour, on thy peo-ple smile, According to thy faith-ful word. Give us our bread, and teach to rest, Con - tent - ed in thy will

Moderato.

Thus far the Lord hath led me on, Thus far his pow'r prolongs my days; And eve-ry eve - ning shall make known, Some fresh me-mo-rial of his grace.

EFFEN. L. M.

Arranged from a Swiss Tune, by L. MASON.

1. Sweet peace of conscience, heav'ly guest, Come, fix thy man-sion in my breast; Dis - pel n "doubts, my fears con - trol, And heal the an-guish of my soul.

2. Come smil-ing hope, and joy sin - cere, Come, make your constant dwelling here; Still let your pres-ence cheer my heart, Nor sin com-pel you to de - part.

3. O God of hope and peace di - vine, Make thou these sa-cred pleasures mine; For-give my sins, my fears re-move, And fill my heart with joy and love.

Slowly, Gently.

1. Si - lent - ly the shades of eve - ning, Gath - er round my lone - ly door ; Si - lent - ly they bring be - fore me, Fa - ees I shall see no more.
 2. Oh, the lost, the un - for - got - ten, Tho' the world be oft for - got ; Oh, the shrouded and the lone - ly ! In our hearts they per - ish not.

3. Liv - ing in the si - lent hours, Where our spirits on - ly blend, They, unlink'd with earth - ly troub - le, We still hop - ing for its end.
 4. How such ho - ly memories elus - ter, Like the stars when storms are past ; Pointing up to that far heav - en, We may hope to gain at last.

Moderato.

1. Je - ses, where'er thy peo-ple meet, There they behold thy mer-cy-seat: Where'er they seek thee, thou art found, And every place is hal - - lower ground.
 2. For thou, with-in no walls confined, In - hab - it-est the humble mind; Such ev - er bring thee where they come, And going, take thee to.... their home.

3. Great Shepherd of thy chosen few! Thy former mercies here re-new; Here to our waiting hearts proclaim The sweetness of thy sav - ing name.

ALMA. 8s & 7s.

SAMUEL WEBBE.

1. Cease, ye mourners, cease to languish O'er the grave of those you love; Pain, and death, and night, and anguish, En-ter not the world a-bove.

2. While our si - lent steps are straying, Lonely, thro' night's deepening shade, Glory's brightest beam is playing, Round th'immortal spir-it's head.
