

J. H. HEWITT.

also by the same AUTHOR.

IT WONT BEAR MENTIONING.

25¢ net

NEW YORK.

Published by FIRTH, POND & CO. N<sup>o</sup> 1 Franklin Sq.

New Orleans, WM T. MAYO.

Entered according to Act of Congress A.D. 1851 by Firth, Pond & Co. in the Clerks Office of the Dist<sup>t</sup> Court of the South Dis<sup>t</sup> of New York.

“ET CETERA”

J. H. HEWITT.

V O I C E.

P I A N O

F O R T E.

M O D E R A T O .

The bloods who lounge a - _ bout the streets, Or 4

with their po - nies dash on, Are al - ways sip - - ping luscious sweets From off the lips of fashion. They rise at twelye, then pick their teeth, Or puff a mild ci -

- gar; They yawn a bit and talk a bit, And

The musical score consists of two staves. The top staff uses a treble clef and has a key signature of one sharp (G major). It contains a melody line with various note values and rests. The bottom staff uses a bass clef and has a key signature of one sharp (G major). It contains harmonic support with sustained notes and chords. The lyrics "swear — et cet- - e - - ra!" are printed below the top staff.

<sup>2</sup>
Then when they've look'd into the glass,
Brush'd up and titivated;
Comb'd moustache and imperial,
And whiskers cultivated.
They sally forth swell for an hour,
Leer Miss salute Mamma,
Bow to the Belle or Widow gay,
Strut stare et cetera!

<sup>3</sup>
They cut the Tailor and his bill,
The fellow's used to cutting
What right has he to trouble them,
By holding on the button.
They kick the boot-black down the stairs,
Unpolish'd things they are;
'Tis vulgar, quite, to pay one's debts
Old scores et cetera.

<sup>4</sup>
At night when charged with wit and wine,
Thro' street and ally reeling;
Then while they're grouping in the dark,
They know they're men of feeling.
A row or two is all the go,
A black eye or a scar;
They love a bout a yell a blow,
A spree et cetera!

<sup>5</sup>
Then to the lock up off they go,
All swearing shouting yelling;
The Charlies fare the worst we know,
Black eyes and noses swelling,
They tip the silver soon the charm
Heals up each bruise and scar;
Then to their nightly homes they go
To sleep et cetera!