The Schoole of Musicke.

Risse his delight.

Handwritten musical notation in French lute tablature, consisting of seven systems of staves. Each system includes rhythmic flags (F, P, B) and letters (a, b, c, d, e, f, g) indicating fret positions. The notation is written on a five-line staff, with some systems including a second line for a lower register. The music is in a single system, with various repeat signs and clefs used throughout.
