While I hang on your bosom dis-tracted to lose you High swells my sad heart and fast my tears flow, yet think not of coldness they fall to accuse you,

Did I e-ver upbraid you! oh no my love no! I own it would please me a-home coul'd you tarry, Nor e'er feel a wish from Ma-rina to go, But if it gives plea-sure to y'e my de-ri-Party, I'ell I blame you r-e-pair me lo-ho my love ro-flall I blame you r-e-aparture! oh no my love no!

Now do not dear Hal, while abroad you are straying,
 That heart which is mine on a rival beftow;
 Nay banish that frown such displeasure betraying,
 Do you think I suspect you, oh no my love no.
 I believe you too kind for one moment to grieve me,
 Or plant in a heart which adores you such woe;
 Yet shold you dishonour my truth and deceive me,
 Shou'd I e'er cease to love you, oh no my love no.
