Vnam Dei bonitatem principium, & causam esse bonorum omnium, quæcunque sunt, & monet Apostolus, & ratio ipsa ab eadem bonitate nostris animis insita nos dubitare non finit. Quæ vero in nobis sunt bona, ea, nisi diuinæ quoque bonitati accepta referamus, non modo prædicatione, & uerbis, sed, quod maxime opus est factis; iis scilicet ipsis bonis, ad Dei laudem adhibendis ingratissimi sumus. Ex quo autem sic cogitare cæpi, statui, quantum in Musica, cui quidem scientiæ totum me à puero dedidissim, profecisse existimarer. (uideor enim multis aliquantum processisse, ipse autem quam parum id sit, plane intelligo) sed tamen quantum quantum illud esset, decreui totum diuinis laudibus consecrare. Cum uero in his constaret celeberrimas, Deoq; acceptissimas esse eas, quæ in sacrosancto Missæ Sacrificio concinuntur, cumq; multa essent à me in hoc genere elaborata, delegi hæc pauca, quæ tuæ Sanctitati, GREGORI PONT. MAX. offerrem, tuoq; permisso ederem. Ut autem singularem humanitatem tuam multis aliis in rebus sum expertus, quotidieq; experior, sic perspecturum me spero in hoc officio, non ex mea tenuitate, sed ex uoluntate, & studio æstimando. Quid præterea præstare possim, aliud nihil est, nisi ut diuinam bonitatem orem, ut Sanctitatem tuam Ecclesiæ suæ conseruet, cumuletq; omni gaudio, & felicitate, Id feci, faciamq; assidue.

The first system of musical notation for 'The Merry Widow' is written on a single staff. It begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The melody consists of a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, with some rests. The notation is in a traditional, somewhat ornate style. Below the staff, there are two small 'ii' markings, likely indicating fingerings for the right hand.

Blank lined paper with horizontal ruling lines.

10-137

1. The first step in the process of the scientific method is to make an observation or ask a question. For example, you might notice that plants in a sunny location grow faster than plants in a shady location. This leads to the question: "Does the amount of sunlight affect the growth rate of plants?"

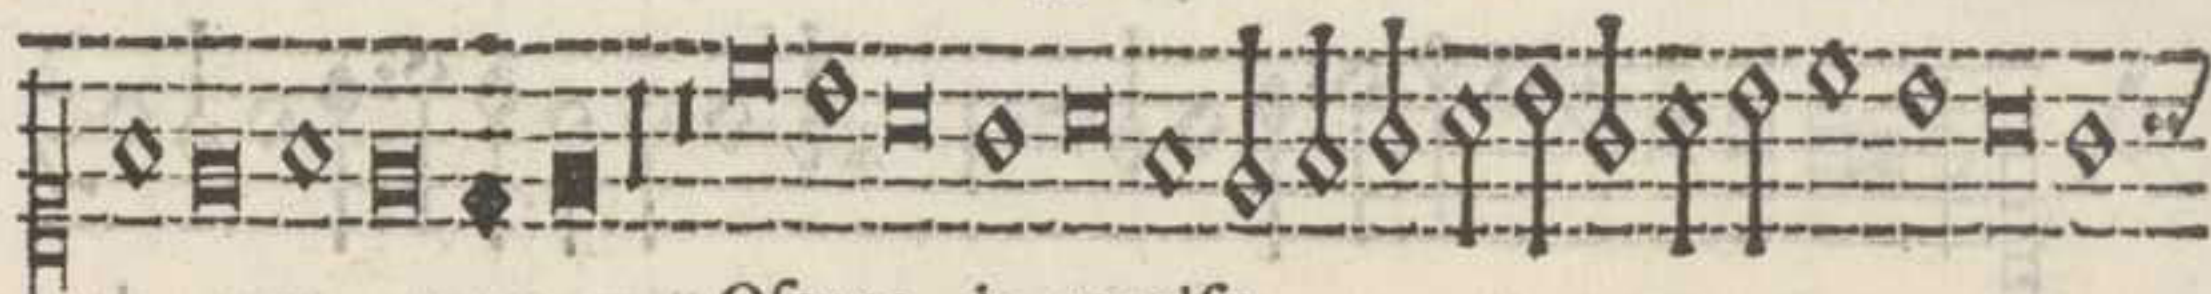

2. Next, you formulate a hypothesis, which is a testable prediction. In this case, your hypothesis might be: "If a plant receives more sunlight, then it will grow faster." This hypothesis is testable because you can measure the growth rate of plants under different conditions of sunlight.

3. The third step is to design and conduct an experiment. You would need to set up two groups of plants: one group in a sunny location and one group in a shady location. You would then measure the height of the plants at regular intervals over a period of several weeks. It is important to control other variables, such as the amount of water and the type of soil, to ensure that the only difference between the two groups is the amount of sunlight.

4. After collecting data, you analyze the results. If the plants in the sunny location grew significantly taller than the plants in the shady location, this would support your hypothesis. If the results were inconclusive or contradicted your hypothesis, you would need to revise your hypothesis and repeat the experiment.

5. Finally, you draw a conclusion based on your analysis. If the data consistently supports your hypothesis, you can conclude that the amount of sunlight does affect the growth rate of plants. This conclusion can then be used to inform other studies or practical applications, such as gardening or agriculture.
