GOLDEN THOUGHTS.

Golden thoughts for every day,
Golden dreams for every night;
So my life goes on its way
Full of deep and dear delight!

For the dawn a hope divine,
For the close of day a prayer
That the friends I hold as mine
May be free from every care.

Golden thoughts a precious store,
Golden dreams so fair, so bright;
These are mine for evermore
If I do God's will aright!

THE BLACKBIRD IN MY GARDEN

Words by
LOUIE DAVOREN BURKE

Song

Music by
NANCY WOOD

With spirit

The musical score consists of two systems of vocal and piano accompaniment. The first system covers the first two lines of lyrics, and the second system covers the next two lines. The piano accompaniment is in a 2/4 time signature and features a simple harmonic accompaniment. Dynamics include mf and rit.

A blackbird sang this morning
Within my garden fair,
His song was one of gladness,
And joy beyond compare.
His little throat seem'd bursting,
As he piped his cheery lay,
I felt my sad heart gladden,
My sorrow melt away.

'Twas summer all around me,
The blackbird knew it too;
The world was wrapp'd in sunshine,
The skies of Heav'n were blue.
But sorrow's dreary winter
So long had held my heart,
So long had kept me tearful,
He seem'd full loth to part.

But when you sing, sweet blackbird,
Within my garden fair,
Your song brings light and gladness,
And joy beyond compare.

GOD GIVE YOU JOY

Words by
EDWARD LOCKTON

Song

Music by
HAROLD GREENHILL

Maestoso

The musical score is written in 3/4 time with a key signature of one sharp (F#). It consists of a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The tempo is marked 'Maestoso' and the dynamics are 'mf'. The lyrics are: 'God give you joy to dwell with-in your heart, Through sun and rain, as lone-ly years de-part;'. The piano accompaniment features a steady bass line and chords in the right hand.

God give you joy to dwell within your heart;
Through sun and rain, as lonely years depart;
God give you friends to cheer you on your way,
Laughter and joy and love for ev'ry day!

God give you hope that you may see the light,
Radiant and fair beyond the darkest night;
Then when He calls, when life's long road is past,
God give you rest, and bring you home at last!

ALONG THE DUSTY ROAD.

Words by
E. TESCHEMACHER.

Song.

Music by
NELLIE SIMPSON.

REFRAIN.
Allegro moderato.

So - tramp, tramp, tramp a - long the dus - ty road, Tramp right on and learn to bear your load. Nev - er heed the heat of wind or rain,

When the morning breezes call you out of bed,
When the blue of heaven glistens overhead;
Don't you wait a moment, rise and greet the day,
All the world is calling "Seek the open way!"

So tramp, tramp, tramp along the dusty road,
Tramp right on and learn to bear your load.
Never heed the heat of wind or rain,
Move along and sing a good refrain.
Take a friend whose faith is always strong and true,
Who can march and keep in step with you,
Cares all left behind, joy at last you'll find,
Tramping down the dusty road.

When the shadows gather round you for awhile,
Don't let hope desert you, face them with a smile;
Seek the open country where God's breezes blow,
Tramp away your troubles, singing as you go.
So tramp, tramp, tramp, etc.

THE LITTLE BLUE SUN BONNET.

He drove down the road to the market one day,
He saw a young maiden a-trudging that way,
Her face like a rose and as fresh as the dew,
A maid in a little sun bonnet of blue.

He bade her good morning, she sat at his side,
"But how can I pay you," said she, "for my ride?"
He answer'd "Just give me a sweet kiss or two!"
But she laughed and she shook her sun bonnet of blue!
Said he "I've a farm, and of acres I've seven,
With you at my side, dear, the place were just heav'n!"
Said she "You must offer a heart fond and true,
Before you can win a sun bonnet of blue!"
Said he "I shall love you as long as I live,
A heart that is steadfast and faithful I give!
Oh! promise to wed me 'er summer is through!"
And she nodded her little sun bonnet of blue!
