

Deposited Sept. 9, 1852.

THE
HARP OF AFFECTION

Serenade. Written by

DR. B. F. MULLEN

Music by

J. P. WEBSTER.

PIANO. 38<sup>cents</sup>

Published by W. C. PETERS & SONS Cincinnati.

38<sup>cents</sup> GUITAR.

Louisville PETERS, WEBB & CO.

Cleveland HOLBROOK & LONG.

BALMER & WEBER St. Louis.

C. REED Columbus.

THE HARP OF AFFECTION.

3

A POPULAR SERENADE.

WORDS BY DOCTOR B.F. MULLEN.

MUSIC BY J.P. WEBSTER.

GAINMENT.

Wake La-dy wake— the bright stars are shining, And Zephyr's dance gaily o'er the po - sy deck'd lea. The minstrel of love, thy young heart be - guiling, Strikes the harp of af - fection to love and to thee. The 1796— 5.

Entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1852, by W.C. Peters & Sons, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of Ohio.

harp, that so long hath lain pen - sive and si - lent, Sends forth its soft { p
 tones in a sweet me - lo - dy; And the birds of the morrow, in
 {
 notes of en - chantment, Will join in glad chorus to love and to
 {
 thee.
 {

The pale moonbeams

gla...ing—the winds in their softness—The stars that sit twinkling o'er heaven's deep sea. All, all in their brightness, and beau...ty and fresh...ness, Are shin...ing and sighing to love and to thee. The moss rose is weep-ing the dew-drop is stealing A down her bright cheek and a sigh is set free. From her bo-som of beauty, while night music pealing, As-cends in its gladness to joye and to thee.