NOTE

THIS vocal score, prepared from Dr. R. Vaughan Williams's edition of the full score (vol. 18 of the Purcell Society's edition), has been printed specially for the Festival of English Music arranged by the Cambridge University Musical Society for performance during the Congress of the International Society for Musical Research held at Cambridge July 29 to August 4, 1933. This performance is probably the first for over two hundred years.

The original orchestra consists of strings and continuo. The accompaniments arranged by Dr. Vaughan Williams from the continuo should be played on a harpsichord. When a harpsichord is not available, a pianoforte can be used. It is suggested that kettle drums and trumpets, if available, may be used on pp. 17, 18 and 19.

There are solo voice parts for tenor on pp. 18 and 31, and for bass on p. 12. The solo parts (originally composed for a male alto) on pp. 8 and 26 can be sung by a contralto. The bass duet on p. 3, the soprano duet on p. 30, and the 'verse' trio on p. 20 may be sung (if desired) in each case by a small semi-chorus. Similarly the trio on p. 24 (originally composed for two male altos and a bass) may be sung by a small semi-chorus (C.C.B. or C.T.B.).

According to Mr. Arnold Dolmetsch the sign  is a combination of an appoggiatura, a shake and a turn. Thus, on p. 3, in the last bar, the first bass-part should be sung as follows :—

There may be more beats in the shake according to the tempo and the skill of the singer.
