

i. crane

⊗ accidentals apply only to the notes they immediately precede.

♩ = 89 (but not strictly)

B<sup>b</sup> Clarinet

Handwritten musical score for B<sup>b</sup> Clarinet, titled "i. crane". The score consists of ten staves of music. It includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, slurs, and dynamic markings (p, mp, f, sfz, pp, mf, ff). There are also performance instructions like "(just air)", "(con molto vibrato)", and "(senza vibrato)". The score is written in treble clef with a key signature of one flat (B<sup>b</sup>).

ii. teardrop

$\text{♩} = 55$  (but rather free - duration is less important than attack)

B $\flat$  Clarinet

notes

- i. although there are indications for bending of the notes by three quarter-tones, the player may freely bend any other notes by one quarter-tone, towards either direction
- ii. the performer may choose one of the two endings, or both (in which case the semi-breve of the first ending will have to be compressed to a minimum)

$\text{♩} \checkmark$  = bend note by three quarter-tones (as in the first example)
