The Lays of the Mill. Sung by Mr. Beard.

Who has earthen at Baldock must quarrel know if Mill at the sign of the mill at the foot of the hill After the grave is the gay the town and is known without all distinction prominently go Where the grave and the gay the town; the gay without all distinction prominently go For

The Man of the Mill has a Daughter so Fair
With so pleasing a shape & so winning an air that once on the ever green bank as I stood I'd swore she was Venus just sprung from the flood.

(But looking again I perceiv'd my mistake for Venus the fair has the look of a rake While nothing but virtue and modesty will the more beautiful looks of the lays of the Mill.

Prometheus stole fire as the Poets all say
To enliven that Man which he modelled of clay had Polley been with him the beams of her eyes had sav'd him the trouble of robbing the Skyes.

Since first I beheld this dear lays of the Mill
I can ne'er be at quiet but do what I will
All the day and all night I wish ethink still I shal die if I have not their lays of the Mill.

Ah Philander I'm Afraid.
 There poor Laura was betray'd,
 By young Strophone subtle wiles
 Soothing words & artfull smiles,
 Simple Maids are soon undone;
 When there simple hearts are won
 Press me not I must away,
 And Honour strict commands obey.

He

Gentle Daphne fear not you
 I'll be ev'ry kind and true
 Think no more on Laura's fate
 View your turtle & its Mate
 See how finely they Impart
 The Impulse of each other's Heart
 Like them my Fair lets sport & play
 Nature prompts us to obey.

She

I sheherd I perceive your aims
 You and Strophone are the same,
 You like him would me betray,
 Should I trust what e'er you say,
 If Daphne doubts let Hymens bands
 This instant join our willing hands,
 The Invitation I obey,
 And Love with Honour will repay.

Easily 'The' Warning Set by W<sup>r</sup> Long

Lovers who wait your thoughts & youth in vapours soft dreams and dream of Woman love and Truth and doth up on your dreams I shall not here your fancy take from such a Pleasing state were you not ou're ai loot to wake and find your fault too late

When Learn betimes if Love which crown As if some injury were meant,
Our Care is all but Wilts, To those they kindly us'd, Compos'd of false fantastick Troubles Those lovers are the most content,
And soft doozing smiles, That have been still refus'd,
With anger which sometimes they pain Since each has in his bosom nuris'd,
They cruel Tyrants prove, A false and fanning see,
And then turn Slatterers again, So just & wise by striking first,
With an effected Love? To scarce the fatal Blow.

Moderately slow

Lovy never more shall give me pain my fancy's fast on thee nor ever maid my Heart shall gain my Peggy if thou dye Thy beauties did such pleasure give thy Lovy do true to me without thee I shall never live My Peggy if thou dye

If fate shall tear it from my breast Nonew blown beauty fires my heart,
 From lonely shall I stray With Cupid's raving rage,
 In dirry dreams the night all my life But then no such sweet to impart
 In sighs the silent day Must all the world engage,
 I ne'er can see much virtue find, Was these that like the morning sun,
 Nor such perfection see! Gave joy and life to me;
 Then I'll renounce all womankind And when its dawnday is done,
 My Peggy after thee With Peggy let me dye.

Ye spon's that smile on virtuous love,
 And in such pleasure share,
 You who the faithful flame approve,
 With pity view the fair,
 Restore my Peggy's wanted charms,
 These charming so dear to me,
 Oh never rob them from those arms
 I'm lost if Peggy dye.

Take Care Maids take Care, when he flatters & swears,
How you trust your own Eyes, or believe your own Ears.
Like the Rose-bud in June, evry Hand hell invite,
But wound the kind Heart, like the Shorn out of Sight,
And trust me who e'er my false Shepherd retains,
She'll find him a Conqueror that's scarce worth her Pains.

Three Months at my feet did he languish & sigh,
E'er he gaund a kind Word or a tender Reply,
Love, Honour & Truth, were the Themes that he sung,
And he rev'd that his Soul was a kin to his Tongue,
Too soon I believ'd & reply'd to his Strains,
And gave him too frankly my Heart for his Pains.

The trifle once gain'd, like a Boy at his Play,
Soon the Wanton grew weary, & flung it away,
& o'er leyd with my Love from my Arms he doos fly,
In search of another as silly as I;
But trust me who e'er my false Shepherd retains,
She'll find him a Conqueror that's scarce worth her pains.

Beware all ye Nymphs, how ye sooth the fond Flame,
And believe in good Time all the Six are the same,
Like Stephan from Beauty to Beauty they range,
Like him they will flatter; dissemble & change,
And do all we can still this Maxim remains,
That a Man when we're got him is scarce worth his pains.

 In sensual love their Days,
 While I my Darling Youth enjoy,
 In Virtues smiling Rays,
 Take all the false delights of cogito
 Each glittering Beau & Belle Give me with harmless rural Sports,
 My Roger of the Dale.

Toby Reduc'd set by M<sup>r</sup>. Hodson

Lively

Dear Tom this brown'ning jug is now seams to mind me In which I will drink to sweet Nan of the Vale

Vale was once Toby fil set a thirsty old soul As eer drink a bottle or fathom'd a boute In bearing about trash his prais to excell and among Folly Tobys he bore of the Bell

He bore of the bell

It chang'd in dog Days as he sat at his ease
In his flow'r woven arbour as gay as you please
With a friend trashie puffing Sorrow away
And with honest old Jingo was soaking his clay
His brathy doors of life on a wudde were shut
And he died full as big as a Dorchester butt

His Body when long in y Ground it had lain
And time into Clay had dissolv'd it again
A Potter found out in its Covert so snug
And with part of fat Toby he form'd this brown'ning jug
Now sacred to friendship & mirth & mild Ale
So here's to my lovely sweet Nan of the Vale

Sung by Miss Stevenson

Love and me

Let Reason o'er his thoughts preside
Let Honour all his Actions guide
Stedfast in Virtue let him be
The strain design'd for Love & me.

Where Sorrow prompts u'pensive sigh
Where Griefs bedewy drooping eye
Melting in Sympathy I see
The strain design'd for Love & me.

Let Solid Sense inform his mind
With pure good nature sweetly joind
Sure friend to modest merit be
The strain design'd for Love & me.

Let sordid avarice claim no part
Within his tender gen'rous Heart
Oh be that Heart from falsehood free Devoted all to Love & me.

face either Devil or Wife face the Devil Devil or Wife with this you may face either Devil or Wife

Your Mars, i.e. Apollo, in Spite of the Schools,
And Jupiter eke to our Bacchus are Fooles,
When his blessed Spirit enlivens our Clodes,
Each Mortal's inspir'd with y<sup>r</sup> Pow'r of the Gods,
Not Mars is so valiant, when Watchmen provoke,
Not Phæbus so wise when y<sup>r</sup> Justice we smoke,
Nor Jove half so Rampant in all his Amours,
When we thunder away from our Claret to Whores.

My Morals are sound for they lye in my Glass,
My Religion and Faith are my Bottle & Lids,
My Church is the Tavern, a Vintner y<sup>r</sup> Brandy,
And thus I go on till the Saint is deceas'd,
And when I no longer can revel & roar,
But must part with my bottle, my friends & my Whore, Embalme me in Claret, pay Rites at mye Shrine,
Thus living I'm happy, when dead I'm deevine.

Lively April Fool

When April Day began to rise I saunter'd o'er yon fragrant Mead to lovelily Sally east her ey or where e'er my vagrant foot steps led where e'er my vagrant foot steps led all full of mirth appear'd the fair upon the Margin of a pool she beckon'd but as I drew near she laughing call'd me April Fool April Fool April Fool she laughing call'd me April Fool

I shook my poor unthinking Head Oh la! say'd she fine words indeed
 That never dreamt on April Day Enough to win a Maiden's Heart
 However to my self I said Come Collin's bound thy Oaten Head
 Young Maid I'll soon this trick repay And play a love tune ere we part
 She ask'd me why I stand so still I drew my Pipe which please'd her well
 Like some poor frightened boy at school o' woud I let her fondness cool
 Because of goodness of the wood I laid her down but must not tell
 Say I makes me an April Fool Now she was made an April Fool

The Fly A Simile

See See that Insect priz'd and vain around the Ta per Buzz in pain schorbid by the Dayl ing fire Pleas'd with the Candles glittering light too near approaching kills him quite and in the Flame expire

Attracted thus by Beautys Charms,
 Each Youthful Heart is in alarms,
 And hovers round the Fair,
 Till by the Lightning from her Eyes,
 The hapless Swains like silly flies,
 Are kill'd and diappear.

John & Nell

John & Nell
 As Nell sat underneath her Cow near to a Creek of Any Brisk John was coming from his plough & chanc'd to pass that way like Lightning to the fluid he flew and by the hand he squeeze'd her spray John she cry'd be quiet & be and found because he seiz'd her

Young Cupid from his mother's knee
 Observ'd her female pride (he on his trooper John says he)
 And I will be your guide
 Then aim'd at Nelly's Breast a dart
 From pride it soon releas'd her
 She faintly cry'd I feel love smart

John laid him self down by her side
 And stol a kiss or two
 And flatt'ryo Charm he also try'd
 Till she the kinder grew
 The poison soon began to stirr'd
 And in the Nick he seiz'd her
 She trembl'd bluch'd & shungh her Ha
 And swifid because it eas'd her

Then smild because he plac'd her

A New Song

Beneath this ignorant Myrtle shade while my weary Limbs recline while If my weary Limbs recline o' Love be thou my Honey-mede and hither bring the generous Wine and hither bring the generous Wine

How swift the wheel of life revolves
 How soon life's little race is o'er
 But oh when Death this frame dissolves
 Mirth Joy and Frölick is no more

Why then ah! Fool profusely vain
 With Incense shall thy Pavements shine
 Why dost thou pour O wretch profane
 On senseless Earth the Nectar'd Wine

To me thy breathing Odours bring
 On me the mantling Bowls bestow
 Ho cloe rot the Roseate Spring
 For Wreaths to grace my honour'd brow

Yas e'er the airy dance I join
 Of fleeting shadows light and vain
 All wisely drown in floods of Wine
 Each busy Care and Idle pain

Briton fails the popish Foreigner prevails

You must teach her to dance as if modest in and shakey brains who else with your fiddle a grace all begravon of face and air most affectedly neat and digestest and digesteth air most affectedly neat

Then bow down like a Beau
Hop and turn out your Toe
Lead Miss by y<sup>e</sup> Hand & Lear a ther
Draw your Glove with an Air
At your white Stockings stare
And simper & Ogle and flatter

Walk y<sup>e</sup> Figure of Eight
With your Pump stiff & straight
Then turn her with delicate Ease
Bow again very low
Your good Breeding to show
And Missy you'll perfectly please

If these Steps you pursue
You will soon bring her too
And rile the Child of her Charms
Her poor Heart will heave high
And she'll languish and sigh
And Caper quite into your Arms

Nor all the torments I repeat Her pity may one word beseve
Can gain one tender word And dying Damon save.

Ye lovers happy with the Fair,

Music score for two voices and basso continuo, featuring three staves of music with lyrics.

Oh what says the Youth must thy Beauty so gay, Perchance us at once and invite,
 Embrace every Rapture lest some make a Prey,
 Of that which was meant for delight,
 When age has crept round and thy Charms wrinkled o'er,
 Then all will my Chlee disdain,
 But still all her Answer was tease me no more,
 I will dye a Maid my dear Swain.

Young Damon protested no other had prize,
 His Manie was strong and sincere,
 Then watch'd the Emotions that play'd in her Eyes;
 And banish'd his Torture and Fear,
 My Joye shall be secret enraptur'd he cry'd

Moderato

Every nymph & shepherd bring
 Tributes to Queen of May his softer brawny Spring make her ay the seas on han
 Teach her then from every flower how to use is fleeting hour
 Teach her then from every flower how to use is fleeting hour

Fair the fair Narcissus bloes, Soon the fair Narcissus dies,
 With his sweetnes now delights Soon he droops his languid head,
 By his side the Maiden hose, From the Rose her purple fled,
 With her artless blush inviteth None curling to her bed,
 Such o fragrant and so gay, Such tho' now so sweet and gay
 To the blushing Queen of May Soon shall be the Queen of May

Thou art a Rural Queen,
 By the suffrage of the swains;
 Beauty like the eternal green
 In thy Shrine not long remains
 Bless then quickly bless the youth,
 Who deserves thy love & truth.

 The Rake shall forget how last Night he was eloy'd,
 And Cloe again be with Passion enoy'd,
 Obey then the summons to Lethe repair,
 And drink an Oblivion to Trouble and Care.

The Wife at one Draught may forget all her Wante,
 Or drench her fond foot to forget her gallants,
 The troubled unslind shall go chearful away,
 And yesterday's Wretch be quite happy to Day,
 Obey then the summons to Lethe repair,

The piano part has a bass line with a bass clef and a treble line above it. Measure numbers 56 and 57 are indicated below the staff. The key signature changes from C major to G major at measure 57.

Thy Cheeks, says he, like Peaches bloom,
Thy breath is like the Spring's Perfume:
On thy sweet lips my Love I'll seal,
Yon instantly I'll stand, so white and sleek,
Are like to Saliv's Breast, and sleek,
But still she turn'd her spinning wheel.

The fair one, Beauty's transient Pow'ry,
Fades like the new-blown gaudy Flor'r;
Yet so where'er virtue loves to dwell,
For where sweet Modesty appears,
We never see the rade of Spair'r.
She mild and stopp'd her spinning Wheel,

The pomp of State, the pride of Wealth,
Says she, scorn for peace and health,
Where honest Labour earns her Meal;
Who tells the flatterers common tale,
Can ne'er o'er my Heart prevail;
And make me leave my Spinning Wheel.

The swain, who loves the virtuous mind,
Alone can make young Sally kind,
For him I'll toil, I'll spin and reel,
It is the voice says he of love,
Come harken to yon church above;
She blushed, and left her spinning wheel.

Love

Music score for two staves. The top staff uses a treble clef and the bottom staff uses a bass clef. Both staves have a common time signature. The music consists of a series of eighth and sixteenth note patterns.

Non' Charms he discover'd as more she was known
 Her Face grew all under her Taste was his own
 Her Manners were gentle her Sense was refined
 And oh what dear Virtues beam'd forth in her Mind
 Yet still for the sanction of Friendship he strove
 Till a sigh gave the omen & shew'd it was Love.

Non' proud to be conquer'd he sighs for the fair
 Grows dull to all Pleasure but being with her
 He's mute while his Heart strings are ready to break
 For the fear of Offending forbids him to speak
 And wanders a willing Example to prove That Friendship with a Woman is Sister to Love.

A Lover thus Conquer'd can ne'er give Offence
 Not a Dupe to her Smiles but a Slave to her Sense
 His Passion nor Wrinkles nor Age can allay
 Since founded on that which can never decay
 And Time that will Beauty's short Empire remove Increasing her Reason Increases his Love.

Tis not her form alone I prize, | But I'm in love with Peggy's mind
Which evry soul that has but eyes Where evry virtue is combin'd,
As well as I can see. | That can adorn the Fair,
To say she's fair is but to say, Excepting one you scarce can miss,
When Phœbus shines at Morn the Day So trifling that it woud not wish
What none need learn of me. | That virtue had been there.

The who possest all the rest,
Must eare arell the pride whose Breast
That Virtue shares alone
To seek perfection is a scot,
They who have fewest faults are best,
And Peggy has but one.

What trafficking then would have been on the Main,
For the sake of good Liquor, as well as for Gain,
And o' Scary then of Tempeot or Danger of Sinking,
The Fishers neer drown that are allways a drinking.

The hot thirsty Sun would drive with more haste,
Secure in the Evening of such a Report;
And when he'd got his ey, would have taken his Nap,
With double the pleasure in Thetis's Lap.

By the force of his Rays, and thus heated with Wine,
Consider how gloriously Phæbus would shine,
What vast Exhalations he'd draw up on high,
To relieve the poor Earth as it wanted Supply.

How happy us Mortals when blest with such a Rain,
To fill all our Vessels, and fill 'em again.
Nay even the Beggar, that has neer a Dish,
Might jump in the River, and drink like a Fish.

What Mirth and Contentment on every ones brow,
Hob as great as a Prince, dancing after his plough,
The Birds in the Air, as they play on the Wing,
Altho' they but sing, would eternally sing.

The Stars who I think, don't to drinking incline
Would frisk and rejoice, at the fume of the Wine,
And merrily twinkling, would soon let us know,
That they were as happy, as Mortals below.

Had this been the case, what had we enjoy'd,
Our spirits still rising, our fancies neer cloy'd,
A Poor then on Neptune, when twas in his pow'r,
To slip like a fool such a fortunate cur.

Cupid's Power restored set by M' Atfield

Th' luckless Cupid art thou blind canst not thy Bow and arrows find why Mother eare the Winton plays and lays them up for Hollidays But Cupid mark how kind I'll be because you once were gone to me I'll arm you with such pow'ful Darts shall make you once more God of Hearts

My Cloe's Breast shall be the court,
 Where little Loves shall play and sport;
 Her snowey Arms shall be thy Bow,
 Which none but Love can bend you know:
 And of the Ringlets in her Neele,
 You shall your trembling Bow strings make,
 Then taking e rrrows from her Eyes,
 Who e'er you shoot at surely dies.

Lord bless me! says Sir what the Duce can you mean,
To come thus upon one, unthought of unseen,
I ne'er will approve of the Love you pretend,
For as Mischief begins—perhaps Mischief may end.

I little thought now heid his passion advance
But pretty Excuses made up the Winchance;
He begg'd a kind Kiss which I granted I von,
And I laid my own self the whole fault on the Con.

How many ways Love can the Bosom invade,
Has, byt provid too strong for an innocent Maid,
He hinted that Wedlock was what hed be at,
But I thought it was best—to say nothing to that.

I flutter all over when e'er he comes nigh,
For if he shoud press I shall surely comply;
And ne'er shall be angry my Heart itselv tells,
Tho he flings down my Milk—or does any thing else?

Raise raise ye Songsters of the Grove | Morphæus strew thy poppies round,
 To harmony your little throats | In shades sleep conine her fast,
 Each wish each latent passion merr | Her Mantles loose her loins unbound
 With all your thrilling amorous notes Use Graces revel round her waist.

Your leafy Arms ye Beaches sprant | Suspicious Cupid guide me there,
 And with us Elms & Oaks entwine | O lay me gently on her breast,
 Whiles prairies drop on her head | Tis dñe to thee all charming fair,
 From Rose buds to the Eglantine | I sleep unknoing to present.

O Advice to Cloris

Moderato (a Irish)

Cloris it is not in our pow'r to sah how long our Time will last it may be within thos i hour may loseth his so you are now mayrable
The blisdest immortal be from change in love are on ly free

And tho' you now immortal seem Then since we Mortal Lovers are such is the exactness of your frame Let's question not how long it will last Those that your Beauty do esteem But while we Love let us take care
Will find it cannot last if same Each Minute be with pleasure past Love from your Eyes has stoln my life It were a Madnes to deny
It is apt to waste and to expire So live because we're oure to dye

Fear not tho' Love and Beauty fail
My Reason shall my heart direct
Your kindness now will then prevail
And fashion turn into respect
Chloris at worst you'll in the end
But change your Lover for a Friend

 And daily swells his tuneful throat
 And doth new life inspire.
 This season to a dorm,
 Winter's fruits are chid array,
 Soon as the sun begins to rise,
 Day's end evening shows,
 The warbling larks repair,
 Which kindly e'st all nature strays,
 And cleaving mount to distant skies
 Revives each plant & flower,
 And sport in fields of air.

The primrose sweet & cowslip too, Midst lonely Woods & silent bourns

 Kind nature's similes are seen. Her Evening Sire repeats,
 In winter's play her sportive Lamb, Then well together ev'ry Day

 And various beauties met my eyes Cried Phyllis calm thy tortur'd mind
 Along the enamell'd ground For Jockey's thine again

Then starting at so sweet a sound
 With rapturous joys in view
 To own my self awake I found
 And on my Shepherd's flow'r

 How shocking it must seem whence the Changes I behold Cold and motionless my Heart

Strephon
Have you, Cara, never read
Of a blind, Mischievous Elf,
Gods and Men his power dread;
Nay sometimes he wounds himself.

Cara
Of the Witches I have heard,
Of his sharp, venomous Dart,
When how it may always guard,
Cold & motionless my Heart.

Strephon
Fair art precept to dissuade,
To raze an amorous Flame,
Wait with Patience, Lovelie Maid,
Let it be in all the veins,
Let the Dart you thro' around,
Leave only deepest without thee
But leave the fatal wound,
Pierces the unpractis'd heart.

Cara
Darts & Flames, & Wounds
Whence do all these Mischiefs spring
There are strange Mysterious sounds
We heard Fairies sing,

At Quadrill seen a Flamma play,
Harlequin exert his Art,
Some faint pleasure there convey,
Cold & motionless my Heart.

Strephon
Cara in thy tender Breast,
Lovelie fair maid up remains;
Once if find adieu to Post,
Stifled, greater are the pains,
Diamonds view if you would learn
Whence proceeds the amorous Dart
Both
So, too well I can discern,

Profitable pleasures of stout British Beer your Wine tippling dram sipping Fellow's re treat but your Beer drinking Britons can never be beat.

The French, with their Vineyards, are meagre and pale,
They Drink of the Squeezing of half ripen'd fruit;
But we who have Hop-Grounds to Mellow our Ale,
Are Room to Plump and have Freedom to Boot,
Let us sing our own Treasure &c.

Should the French dare invade us, thus arm'd with our poles,
We'll bang their bare Ribs, make their lanthorn Jan's King,
For your Beef-eating, Beer-drinking Britons are souls,
Who will shed their last Drop for their Country & King.
Let us sing our own Treasure &c.

That Virgins are whimsical, fickle & coy,
Affecting to shun what they fondly pursue,
Coqueting, yet sighing for conjugal joy;
Confess, O ye Lovers, So this folly new.

That Ladies are Rakes, & turn Gamesters, that's worse,
And have nought but Intrigue, and Diversion in view,
With Loss of their Virtue redeeming their purse,
Is a nations disgrace, and I wish it were new.

That Frenchmen are Robbers and Bravos in War,
But drabb'd into Manners, their Insolence rue,
That they sculk into Holes from the brave English Far,
And lower their Topsails, is not at all new.

That the Hero of Prussia victoriously flies,
From Conquest, to Conquest, o'er thousands with few,
That Vienna is faithful to all her Allies,
Let England proclaim, who has prov'd it not new.

Let Britons unite and bewise as they're brave,
And bid to Contention & Faction adieu;
Then Glory shall crown them as Lords of the Wave,
And their Conquests of old, be surpass'd by the new.

Music score for three staves of music with lyrics underneath each staff.

Young Willey the pride of the plain I adore,
He's handsome good humour'd has Riches in store.
But I'm a poor Damoel of parentage base,
I think how hard my Condition & pity my Case.

My Mother once caught us alone in the Dark,
She shut me and forced me away from my spark
Then talkid much of sorrow, of shame & disgrace
I think how hard my Condition and pity my Case.

Such a strange Alteration has seiz'd me of late,
Like a turtle I mourn all the day for my Mate
At night in my Dreams his blest Image I trace
I think how hard my Condition & pity my Case.

When e'er I think of him I sigh and look pale,
My Mother she asks me what is it & all,
My rural Companions all look in my face,
And in friendly compassion they pity my Case.

O Hymen! be kind, & give fair to my sighs,
Presto' my young Shepherd once more to my Eyes:
The dear nuptial moment with you I'll embrace
And Maidens shall envy not pity my Case!

Methinks she might like to retire,
To see when my Charmer goes by
To the grove I had labour'd to rear
Some Hermit peep out of his Cell
For what ever I heard her advise,
How he thinks on his Youth in a sigh
I hastened and planted it there;
How fondly he wishes her well;
Her Voice such a pleasure conveys
On him she may smile if she pleases
So much I her accents adore,
It will warm the cool bosom of age
Let her speak & what ever shes says,
Yet leave gentle Hebe, O leave
I mourne still to love her the more
Such softnes<sup>s</sup> will ruin these ages

Vanity of Life

Life how vain esteem'd a blessing worthy Mortals hope to share proves to evry man his sorrows full of sorrowfull of sorrow full of care. What if Fortune her befriend ye still the busy friend prevails Or shoud adverse fate attenoye ever with it Sorrow dwells over Sorrow with it dwells

See the Beau in Chariot lolling,
All without a gaudy Scene;
Take him on his pillow rolling,
Slave to Tyrant Thought within,
Grant the fawning Courtier favour,
Give him all his hopes pursue,
Still you hear him raving ever,
Still he pines for something new.
Fill the Misers Bags with treasure,
Spread the Hero's Glory round,
Fear outweighs the Scale of pleasure,
Envy tramples Honour down,
Places, Titles, Pomp & Riches,
Sweetest, imbutter'd are by pain,
Thus Experience daily teaches,
Life and all its Joys are vain.

 Than opening Budding Rose? At once I lost all Rest,
 But the delicious fragrant Rose, Th enchanting sight if sweet surprise
 That charms the Sence so much, Prepar'd me for my Doom,
 Upon a Thorny Brier grow'st, And one cold look from those bright Eyes
 And Wounds when e'er you touch Would lay me in my Tomb,
 And Wounds he? Would lay me i'e.

Can laugh at his Folly and pain;
But when from her Innocence won,
And doom'd for her Virtue to mourn,
When she feels herself lost and undone,
He laughs at the Fool in his turn.

The fools who at Law do contend,
Can laugh at each other's distress,
And while the dire Suit does depend,
Never think how their Substance grows less,
Till hamper'd by tedious Expence,
Altho' to Compound they are loath,
They'll find when restor'd to their Senes,
The Lawyers sit laughing at both.

But while we perceive it the Fashion,
For each Fool to laugh at each other,
Let us strive with a Generous Compassion,
To correct, not condemn one another;
We all have some Follies to hide,
Which known, woud dishonour the best,
And Life, when'tis thoroughly tryd,
Like Friendship, will seem but a jest.

A musical score for 'Summer' featuring three staves of music with lyrics. The first staff uses soprano C-clef, the second staff alto F-clef, and the third staff bass G-clef. The lyrics are: "glows the sultry Summer, glows and chilling Dew and beating Rain give freshness to the Rose give freshness to the Rose to the Rose". The music includes various dynamics like forte and piano, and time signatures such as common time, 6/8, and 4/4.

So I my Chloe to endear
To meaner Beauties stray
And call December to my Year
To brighten up the May
To brighten up the May
Then weep not that my Heart so inclin'd
To ev'ry Face that's new
To ev'ry Face that's new
I wander to return more kind
And change but to be true
But to be true.

 Amherst, and Boscawen O grant thus nobly won,
 And all their British Men. That never Cape Breton,
     Like Nero's shone.
     Again may fall.
 Thanks be to patriot Pitt, May British Bands protect us
 Whose penetrating wit, While British Hearts direct us,
 And wisdom judg'd it fit, And gallic Schemes detect us,
     To set them on.     God save us all.
