Handwritten musical score for the song "Dixie" by Daniel Defoe. The score is written on ten staves, each beginning with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The music is written in a style characteristic of 18th-century manuscript notation, featuring various note values, rests, and dynamic markings. The score includes several annotations in italics: "tutti" appears above the first staff, "E profundis." is written below the first staff, "fav" is written below the second staff, "tutti" is written below the third staff, "fav" is written below the fourth staff, "tutti" is written below the fifth staff, "fav" is written below the sixth staff, "tutti" is written below the seventh staff, "fav" is written below the eighth staff, and "tutti" is written below the ninth staff. The score concludes with a double bar line on the tenth staff.
