I. "Will you walk in - to my par-lor" said a Spi-der to a Fly 'Tis the 13

pret-tiest lit-tle par-lor that ev-er you did spy. You have on - ly got ta pop your head within side of the door You'll see so man-y cu-rious things you nev-er saw be-fore.

17

20

Will you will you walk in Mis-ter Fly Will you will you, Will you will you

29 Second Verse

2. Will you grant me one sweet kiss? said the spi-der to the fly; To taste your charm-ing lips, I've a cu-ri-os-i-ty But if per-chance our lips should meet, a wa-ger I would lay, Of ten to one you would not of - ten let them come a - way. Will you will you walk in Mis-ter Fly Will you will you, Will you will you walk in Mis-ter Fly.

33

36

39

46 Third Verse

3. For the last time now I ask you, will you walk in Mis-ter Fly? No, if I do may I be shot I'm off so now good bye Then up he springs, but both his wings, were in the web caught fast The 53

50

Spi - der laughed Ah! Ah! my boy, I've caught you safe at last. Will you will you walk out Mis-ter Fly Will you will you, Will you, will you, walk out Mis-ter Fly.

56

59

Fourth Verse: Moral

4. Now all young men take warn - ing, by this fool-ish lit - tle Fly,

66

Pleas-ure is the Spi-der's web to catch you it will try, And al - though you maythink that ad - vice is quite a bore, You're lost if you stand par - ly-ing, out side of plea-sure's door.

69

72

Will you will you walk out Mis-ter Fly Will you will you, Will you, will you,
