

Deposited December 30th 1839
in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of N.Y.

L.S. Red J. Gray. 1840.

N. 880.

PLEASURES OF MORNING.
A BALLAD,

THE POETRY WRITTEN BY

Charles Taylor Esq.^r

The Music Composed

and respectfully dedicated

TO

MRS. J. L. COLT.

of Albany

BY

L. Thayer Chadwick.

(OF AUBURN N.Y.)

Pr. 50 Cts

NEW YORK

Published at MILLET'S MUSIC SALOON 329 Broadway.

Entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1839 by Wm. E. Millet in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

PLEASURES OF MORNING.

Music by L. T. Chadwick.

Poetry by Charles Taylor Esq.

Moderato.

Love - - ly and bright are the star's of night, The clear dis - tant Heav'n's a - - - - - dorn - - - - - ing,

But love - - - li - - er far to me is the star, That ad lib. 3

hails the ap-proach of the morn-ing Love-ly and bright are the stars of night, But love-ly-er far to me is the star, That hails the ap-proach of the morn-ing, I love to gaze on the gen-tle

p

rays of the moon in her bright-ness ca - - - reer - - - ing; But bright-er than they is the ear - - - li - est ray of the sun o'er the mountain tops peer - - - ing I love to gaze on the sua

gen - - tle rays of the moon in her bright-ness ca - - - reer

2

When the dew drops repose on the breast of the rose,
 And the air teems with fragrance of flowers;
 When the health giving breeze gaily sports thro' the trees,
 And the birds sweetly sing in the bowers.
 When the health giving breeze gaily sports thro' the trees,
 Then up and away at the dawn of the day,
 The Pleasures of Indolence scorning.
 Then up and away at the dawn of the day,
 The Pleasures of Indolence scorning.
 Twill ever impart Life and Joy to the heart,
 To catch the first breath of the morning,
 Then up and away at the dawn of the day,
 The Pleasures of Indolence scorning.
 Twill ever impart Life and Joy to the heart
 To catch the first breath of the morning.