Piano.

The first system of musical notation consists of three staves. The top staff is a single treble clef with a key signature of two sharps (F# and C#). It begins with a treble clef, followed by a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, and ends with a double bar line. The middle and bottom staves are grand staves (treble and bass clefs). The middle staff has a key signature of two sharps and contains a series of chords and single notes. The bottom staff has a key signature of two sharps and contains a series of single notes. Both the middle and bottom staves have a dim. (diminuendo) marking above the first measure. The system concludes with a double bar line.

The second system of musical notation consists of three staves. The top staff is a single treble clef with a key signature of two sharps. It begins with a treble clef, followed by a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, and ends with a double bar line. The middle and bottom staves are grand staves (treble and bass clefs). The middle staff has a key signature of two sharps and contains a series of chords and single notes. The bottom staff has a key signature of two sharps and contains a series of single notes. Both the middle and bottom staves have a f (forte) marking above the first measure. The system concludes with a double bar line.

The third system of musical notation consists of three staves. The top staff is a single treble clef with a key signature of two sharps. It begins with a treble clef, followed by a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, and ends with a double bar line. The middle and bottom staves are grand staves (treble and bass clefs). The middle staff has a key signature of two sharps and contains a series of chords and single notes. The bottom staff has a key signature of two sharps and contains a series of single notes. Both the middle and bottom staves have a f (forte) marking above the first measure. The system concludes with a double bar line.

The fourth system of musical notation consists of three staves. The top staff is a single treble clef with a key signature of two sharps. It begins with a treble clef, followed by a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, and ends with a double bar line. The middle and bottom staves are grand staves (treble and bass clefs). The middle staff has a key signature of two sharps and contains a series of chords and single notes. The bottom staff has a key signature of two sharps and contains a series of single notes. Both the middle and bottom staves have a f (forte) marking above the first measure. The system concludes with a double bar line.

Piano.

First system of musical notation for Piano. It consists of a single grand staff with a treble and bass clef. The key signature has three sharps (F#, C#, G#). The music features a flowing melody in the treble and a supporting bass line with some arpeggiated figures.

Second system of musical notation. It includes a grand staff for Piano and a single staff for Clarinet (labeled "Clar."). The Piano part continues with its melody and bass line. The Clarinet part enters with a melodic line that mirrors some of the Piano's themes.

Third system of musical notation. It includes a grand staff for Piano, a single staff for Violin (labeled "Vio."), and a single staff for Oboe (labeled "Oboe."). The Piano part has a dynamic marking of mf. The Violin and Oboe parts have melodic lines. The system concludes with a double bar line and the instruction "D.S. al Coda" with a Coda symbol.

Fourth system of musical notation, labeled "CODA." on the left. It consists of a grand staff. The music is marked poco accel. and p (piano). It features a rhythmic pattern of eighth and sixteenth notes in the treble and a simpler bass line. The system ends with a final cadence.
