SAINT-JACOME'S

New and Modern

GRAND METHOD FOR THE CORNET.

CONTAINING 365 pages, which is 121 more than the complete Arban's, and 166 more than Caus-inus's New Melodic School for Cornet. It is printed from engraved plates, and is the most complete and thorough work ever published for this popular instrument. The author of this volume of instructions has also composed many other important tuition books and studies, which have long been in use by the finest teachers in Europe and America; and the present work, which has involved a lifetime of study and experience, is now presented for the benefit of both teacher and pupil.

In this book are introduced several subjects never before treated upon in any other Cornet Method; and we do not hesitate to say that this work will eventually take the place of all others, which, combined together, cannot be compared with Saint-Jacome's New and Modern Grand Method for the Cornet. We are now prepared to furnish this complete work at the extremely low price of $4.00; in board binding, $5 00.

The above Method will also be furnished in separate parts. if desired.
