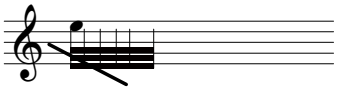
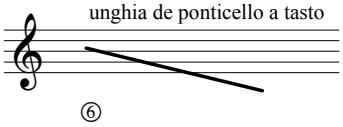
IMPORTANT

= The techniques used in this work are explained either in the ¨Abecedario para Guitarra", or in the following notes.

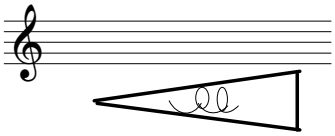
= If a particular technique is not explained here is because it is either well known or the explanation appears on the score and does not need further clarification.



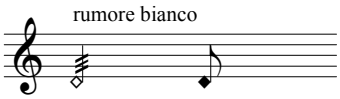
A repetition of the same sound as fast as possible.



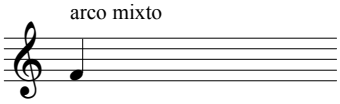
Guitar, on the sixth string, play a shrill sound by scratching the string with the fingernail from the bridge to the head.



String, moving the bow in a circular, regular way, with stable intensity / increasing at the same time the speed of rotation and the sound intensity (from pp to ff) / the reverse procedure.



String, white noise, to be achieved with the fingers of the left hand stretched and tight, pressing down all the strings without touching the fingerboard, while playing on the 4th string with a light bow.



String, (turning the bow) the same time col legno + crine.
